SUFFERING FROM SWIM?

Marilyn Falls Asleep in School; Doctor Orders Rest, Vitamin Pills

TORONTO (BUP)—A doctor ordered a complete rest and a dose of vitamin pills today for Marilyn Bell, the teen-age conqueror of Lake Ontario.

Dr. Bernard Willensky, who has examined Marilyn twice this week, said she was so tired she had been yawning continuously and falling asleep in school. Otherwise, he said, she was in good condition.

"I told her to take a holiday from all this excitement," he said.

Sports columnist Andy O'Brien wrote in the Montreal Star today that Miss Bell was suffering from ill effects from her 32-mile swim, including a "dead sensation" in her left arm and leg and two fingers of one hand.

Marilyn's father said, however, there was "nothing wrong" with her and he knew nothing about her having a sore side.

She said she was attending school today and admitted she may have "done some yawning in classes."

Mrs. Bell said Marilyn's only medicine was vitamin pills.

"They won't do her any harm either after all her loss of sleep and excitement,"

Marilyn's coach, Guy Ryder, said her sore arm was probably the result of a heavy workout at his Lakeshore Swimming Club Monday night, her first real test since her cross-the-lake swim.

Times Crossword Hits Record $400

With the right combination of answers still proving elusive, The Times Crossword Puzzle contest this week offers a total prize of $400, highest figure it has ever reached.

Last week's puzzle, answer to which appears on Page 28 of today's Times, tripped most entrants on the clue: "An Ancient Egyptian may deeply interest the archaeologist." Common answers were "king" and "wing" but "ring" was correct.

A king, as such, would have ceased to exist and hold no interest but his remaining relics, such as a ring, would certainly intrigue an archaeologist.

Thousands of puzzlers gave the answer as "map" but the key in the clue was "a long journey" on which a nap would definitely be desirable but a map might be unnecessary since one might be going by train, for example.

With prize money soaring and the law of averages at work it appears that a correct solution to the tantalizing Crossword will be not long in coming. Puzzle No. 84, which appears today, Saturday and Monday, is the 13th straight contest since a winner was proclaimed.

Deadline for answers is noon, Wednesday.

Found in Cemetery

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UP)—The body of a six-year-old girl, who disappeared while on a gay "tricks or treat" tour, was found on a cemetery hillside early today with the shreds of her brightly-colored Halloween costume scattered around her.

The first-grade pupil, believed to be the victim of a sex deviate, was identified as Karen Mauk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mauk, Cambria County coroner Joseph Govekar ordered an autopsy.

HOSPITAL MIXES BABIES —MOTHERS WON'T TRADE

LONDON (UP)—A hospital revealed here today that it "unfortunately" had given two babies to the wrong mothers.

It said the mothers have refused to trade them back again.

The management of Forest Gate Hospital, in the industrial suburb of West Ham, confirmed that "beyond a doubt" through a mix-up in wrist and crib tags, Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, and Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, have been nursing each other's dark-haired, blue-eyed boys since the infants were born five weeks ago.

But the two mothers, despite "conclusive" blood tests and the pleading of their husbands, have refused to switch the babies.

Canadian Ships Haul Cargo Back From Britain

Freight Remains in Holds as a Result Of U.K. Dock Strike; Settlement Seen

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland is scheduled to arrive here tonight carrying the same cargo she had when she left Montreal Oct. 12.

The cargo, 3,459 tons of grain and miscellaneous freight, could not be landed in Liverpool because of the dock workers' strike.

The Canadian Pacific freighter Mapledell arrived here earlier this week with 2,800 tons of undischarged cargo. The Saxonia, a new Cunard liner, is scheduled to dock here next week with some 3,000 tons of undischarged cargo.

LONDON (UP)—Leaders of Britain's four-week-old crippling dock strike agreed today to recommend that the strikers go back to work, sources close to the unions reported.

SHEPPARD TRIAL HALTED WHILE JUROR PROBED

CLEVELAND (AP)—The murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, accused of the slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was suddenly adjourned today. No reason was given but it was learned that lawyers were investigating a report that one juror was once convicted of a felony.

Selection of a jury of seven men and five women was finally completed Thursday after more than a week.

Brawling Diplomats Recalled by Britain

LONDON (UP)—The foreign office said today it had recalled two members of the British embassy in Moscow because of "trouble" with Soviet government officials.

Recall of the two Embassy members was announced after the London Daily Telegraph reported they "knocked out" several Russian policemen in a brawl that followed a party.

The Telegraph said the British and Soviet governments "hushed up" the brawl, which, it said, showed the Russians treat British diplomats easier than they do Americans.

Fisherman Paul Berenger inserted this ad in the local newspaper: "Mr. and Mrs. Paul Berenger are happy to announce the betrothal of their daughter, Josiane, to Monsieur Marlon Brando." Officials of 20th Century Fox Film Co. in Paris said the reported engagement "is a surprise to us." The company said nothing was known of Brando's present whereabouts.

SNOBS, TOADIES?

'Queen Mum' Strictly Okay, But . . .

NEW YORK (CP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth today canceled a visit to the Cloisters—a museum built in the style of a monastery in upper Manhattan—because of pouring rain.

Everyone seems happy with the Queen Mother's tour so far with the exception of the New York Daily News. The Daily News, biggest-circulation newspaper in North America, has taken a dim view of most of the tour arrangements.

Thursday's edition slammed at the press arrangements for the Queen, and today The News carries an editorial headed "Queen Mum is okay, but . . ."

The editorial contains the following sentence: "Queen Mum" as a lot of Britain-lovers around town are calling her as millions ratch, was isolated by toadies and snobs who kept the common herd at a respectful distance.

"We'd say," the editorial goes on, "that Queen Mum is strictly okay, but that she has been trapped by a bunch of stuffed shirts who don't know the first thing about good public relations for royalty on a good-will tour of a republic."

Vancouver Air Travel Wiped Out By Fog; Shrouded Thugs Active

VANCOUVER (CP)—A heavy, wet fog masked Canada's southern Pacific Coast overnight and still lay in a grey shroud today, halting air and sea traffic and cutting motoring to a minimum.

Gunmen held up two downtown Vancouver companies, escaping with about $500.

Police reported few accidents as most drivers took the bus.

The forecast was for the fog to clear later in the day, resuming again tonight.

Trans-Canada Air Lines held all operations until 11 a.m., cancelling the first flight to eastern Canada which was rescheduled out of Calgary.

The first three Vancouver-Victoria flights were also cancelled.

Canadian Pacific Airlines flights were also delayed and three United Air Lines flights were wiped out.

Thursday night, about 10 aircraft circled International Airport awaiting landing instructions. Of these, two TCA eastern flights were turned back to Calgary and Edmonton; two CPA planes from Prince Rupert landed at Abbotsford, B.C., east of here.

Cabinet to Ask for Resolution Basis

By Staff Reporter

NANAIMO—The Vancouver Social Credit convention resolution tabbing government employees as "wilfully inefficient" came as a complete surprise to the government, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black said here today.

Of the resolution, which set off a province-wide clamour for investigation, Mr. Black told the annual convention of the Provincial Government Employees' Association "frankly, this resolution came as a complete surprise to your government, which is not presently aware of the basis for such an observation."

He said the government would ask to be informed of the basis for the resolution, adding that "wilful inefficiency, if it does exist, has no place in government service."

He called such criticism "shocking," but did not elaborate further on the point.

ARBITRATION QUESTION

On civil service arbitration, Mr. Black said it "can never be made applicable to government employees since this makes the legislature, which is the supreme legal entity in the province, bound by decisions . . . by an independent agency not responsible to it."

He said compulsory arbitration negates a principle of responsible government and would be "a direct violation of our oaths of office to agree to such a proposal."

A real difference between bargaining with private enterprise and with the government is that the legislature can legally change at any time basis of an agreement which a government has signed with a union.

'CERTAIN PROBLEMS'

The minister said, however, that "differences between status of the government as an employer and private industry presented 'certain problems' to which we have not as yet an answer."

Mr. Black scathed statements made by association secretary E. P. O'Connor, Vancouver, quoting him as saying "The Social Credit government's refusal to bargain with us has all the earmarks of fascism, nazism and communism."

Remarks of this kind did little to create the atmosphere necessary for proper discharge of government duties, either by the government itself or employees, Mr. Black said.

MISCONCEPTION

"We not only want your confidence, we want your loyalty," he said, the Secord, during term of office, "has done more for the betterment of conditions of employment of the civil servant than any previous government."

Mr. Black said he would like to clear up "a few misconceptions and misrepresentations that have been given wide coverage in the press."

The government never has and never will, he said, refuse to meet with government employees or their representatives to discuss grievance or problems.

DEPUTY DIES

Adenauer Rushes Back To Germany

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will cut short his visit to the United States and fly back to Germany Monday for the funeral of Hermann Ehlers, speaker of the lower house of parliament, that was announced officially today.

Ehlers, Adenauer's right-hand man and once considered his likely successor, died shortly after midnight of a heart attack at Oldenberg. He was 50.

The announcement said Adenauer will leave New York Monday.

Ehlers died in the midst of a boiling political controversy in West Germany over concessions made by Adenauer to France on the industrially-rich Saar territory in order to win German rearmament.

His death put the Socialist Party temporarily in charge of the Bundestag just as the opponents of NATO membership for Germany were marshalling their strength against Adenauer in the forthcoming debate on ratification of agreements made by the chancellor at Paris.

As speaker of the Bundestag, Ehlers would have played only a little part in the rearmament debate, but he was a close associate of the 78-year-old Adenauer and a powerful spokesman for Germany's Protestants.

Because of his strong church ties and closeness to Adenauer, Ehlers had been considered the likely successor to the aging chancellor.

Carlo Schmid, a high-ranking Socialist, automatically replaced Ehlers as temporary speaker until a new head of the Bundestag is elected.

Speeding on Patricia Bay and Trans-Canada highways cost four drivers a total $130 when they each pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon.

New Kiwanis Village Units Completed by Mid-December

Work on the final units at Kiwanis Village for elderly people is just about completed.

Workmen are rapidly putting the finishing touches to six of 20 new dwellings, getting them ready for tenants who will move in this week-end.

Another six couples will take up residence by December 1, and the remainder will be moved in by December 15.

The final eight couple-units have not yet received occupants. Kiwanis Village Society officials are still studying applications from elderly couples.

Society president Ed Mallek, in a statement today, said that couples who wish to apply for a suite may still do so.

"Some people have the idea that, although we have not yet picked the final eight, it is too late to apply. That is not true. Couples may still apply to the society for one of the remaining units. All applications, whether they come in now, or came in a

'ELECTRIFYING' PERFORMANCE

Expatriate Russian Baritone Bereznetz Impressive Artist

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Domety Bereznetz is a name which should become widely known in western Canada within the next few years. Perhaps, if Victoria is both lucky and wise, this city will be able to lay claim to the gentleman to whom it belongs.

It is the name of a white Russian from the Ukraine whose magnificent vocal equipment and musicianship have brought him honor and distinction in his own land and in European centres renowned for their appreciation and high standards.

I had the pleasure of hearing Professor Bereznetz sing at a meeting of the Registered Music Teachers' Association, Victoria branch, at the home of Madame Winifred Fahey, recently.

His splendid resonant baritone is produced in the true Russian operatic tradition, clear, ringing, vigorous.

DYNAMIC SPIRIT

Apart from possession of a superb and brilliantly trained voice, he is an artist who has an electrifying effect on his audience. Through his own dynamic entry into the spirit of his song, he imbues his audience with a fresh and vivid understanding.

For example, in singing Eschmann's "Two Grenadiers," he invested it with the bravado, the brash ingenuous boasting typical of the public idol of the opera and made the entire colorful scene come to life so that one felt a part of it.

Schumann's "Two Grenadiers" was also a notable example of characterization in song, sung dramatically and with emotion. These were two of several numbers which made one wonder how long it is to be before some group or organization realizes they need go no further than Victoria to find an artist well worth presenting to the music-loving public.

HERE 4 YEARS

Grace Timp was a brilliant accompanist for Professor Bereznetz in the two groups of solos which preceded and followed an address and group of piano selection by Lloyd Powell of Vancouver.

Professor Bereznetz has been in Canada four years and has been making his home at Edmonton but is at present a guest of Mrs. V. Kishinsky, 1736 Haultain Street, Victoria.

He came to this country with his wife—also an operatic soprano whose professional name is Olena Lozitska—under the

No High or Low Road to Heaven —Just Right Road Says Scot

By TONY DICKSON

Rev. Alexander Tee of Kil-syth, Scotland, doesn't care if you take the high road or the low road, as long as you take the right road.

In accents as thick as Thursday night's fog and with the insistence of pre-dawn bagpipes, Mr. Tee, is exhorting people to lead better lives at Glad Tidings Tabernacle, North Park Street, in the traditions of arm-swinging evangelism.

The 29-year-old preacher, who with his aquiline face and blonde hair looks more like an RAF type than specifically a saviour of souls, could never be mistaken for a resident of Laidland—he wears Royal Stuart kilts, sporrans and Stuart tie. And when he talks the "burr-r-r" sounds like a modified machine gun.

'NOW, BELOVED'

In introducing new thoughts to his audience, he starts with the unique phraseology . . . "Now, beloved . . ."

In the plain chapel, the audience, mostly elderly, hang on his every word, interjecting the occasional "amen" or whispered "yes . . . yes."

Mr. Tee, who has been evangelising eight years and intends to make his life's work comes from a Scots family 2,000 years old. "We were there when the Romans invaded," he says with obvious pride. But this particular Tee has wandered around on "God's work" considerably — Palestine, Syria, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, the U.S. and now Canada.

SPAIN DIFFICULT

People generally were interested in his message, but there was difficulty in Spain getting it across. "Spain is dominated by Romanism, and it is illegal to advertise there or gather a crowd for a campaign. They make it as difficult as possible."

Mr. Tee will be preaching at Glad Tidings every night next week, when he leaves for Seattle and San Francisco.

Despite the "Scots mist" outdoors, the minister, whose father was a minister, also, led the congregation in the hymn "Heavenly Sunshine." It was not at first satisfactory.

"You are not good singers," he said, "but neither am I," and led the congregation over the hymn again, in voice which perhaps literally, could crack doom. Mr. Tee is one-half of a two-man evangelistic team. His companion is Rev. Percy S. Brewster, of Cardiff, Wales.

"... noo then, a' t'gether-r-r!"

Ali Assures West Pakistan Unchanged

Pro-West Policy Unchanged by Shake-Up; Government Reshuffled But Still Same

By JAMES BERRY

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP)—Prime Minister Mohammed Ali said today there would be "no change" in Pakistan's pro-western foreign policy as a result of the past week-end's governmental shakeup.

Ali made this statement in his first meeting with 12 foreign correspondents since he shook up his cabinet last Sunday.

He acted then at the request of Governor-General Ghulam Mohammed to meet a political crisis which was undermining the government. Mohammed had dissolved the Constituent Assembly and proclaimed a state of emergency throughout the country.

Ali said the first meeting with his newly-constituted cabinet was held Thursday in the governor-general's residence. He said they discussed matters of internal and external importance by the reconstituted government.

Mohammed Ali emphasized that the reconstitution of his cabinet was not a new government.

"It is the same government which took office April 17, 1953, when I became premier," he said. "I continue to hold office. The cabinet has been reshuffled with certain changes and alterations."

SHARPE NEW MAYOR OF WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—George Sharpe, 45-year-old city alderman, Thursday night was elected mayor of Winnipeg after a transfer of second-choice votes.

Sharpe, son of a former Winnipeg mayor, wound up with 45,533 votes to finish well ahead of runner-up Stephen Juba, who had 30,544.

He picked up 14,250 second choices from the other four candidates in the six-way race—Mayor Garnet Coulter, Ernest Draffin, William Kar-dash and Percival Brown—who finished in that order on first count.

Under the single transferable ballot, a candidate must gain a clear majority over all opponents to win the election.

Pine Pass Route Favored for New PGE Extension

Will Mean Cheaper Freight Rates

The Pacific Great Eastern railway likely will travel through Pine Pass en route from Prince George to Dawson Creek and St. John, Railways Minister Ralph Chetwynd said today.

Information indicates the alternative Peace Pass is narrow and precipitous and loose shale conditions prevalent. In addition, the Peace Pass route is 100 miles longer and would work against Peace River communities when freight rates are equalized on a mileage basis next March.

The minister said freight rates there would rise 7 cents every 25 miles and the longer route would boost costs to consumers by 28 cents a hundredweight.

Workers can lay 110 miles of track before a decision must be made on one of the two passes.

Gorge Rezoned From Glassford

City Council cleared the way Thursday for the school board to erect a new concrete maintenance shop on Gorge Road, west of Glassford Avenue.

Council gave final passage to a by-law changing the zoning to permit "light industry" after school board solicitor W. H. M. Haldane assured Mrs. Dorothy Smyth, 352 Gorge Road East, that the shop would not produce undue noise and would not add to the smoke nuisance of the district.

"That's something to be thankful for," Mrs. Smyth said, "since that plywood plant, it's been awful out there."

Metropolitan Library Plan City Proposal

Council Backs Ald. Macmillan's Scheme to Amalgamate Services

Two steps towards making Victoria Public Library a metropolitan library, owned and operated by all Greater Victoria municipalities, were taken Thursday afternoon.

At City Hall, council rallied behind a resolution sponsored by Ald. Robert Macmillan, suggesting Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt be asked to join the city and run the library through a metropolitan board, just as water distribution now comes under the Greater Victoria Water Board.

At the library, members of the library board received an ultimatum from Oak Bay council, advising that unless Oak Bay is given voting representation on the library board, it will pull out of the library scheme.

Library board members, unaware of what council was doing, called for the city to sponsor a round-table conference with its neighbors to discuss municipal participation in library affairs.

Ald. Macmillan's plan, essence, means amalgamation of library service.

Victoria would call in an independent appraiser to determine how much its library was worth. It would then sell the whole thing to a Greater Victoria board. Cost would be

Fog Cause In Death Of Logger

VANCOUVER (CP)—A dense fog rolling in on Vancouver and the lower mainland for the second night in a row forced land and sea traffic to a crawl Thursday and throttled operations at International Airport.

A 21-year-old logger died of injuries in Sechart, 25 miles from Vancouver, as an RCAF Canso and a chartered craft waited in the swirling mists for a chance to complete the mercy flight.

Dense sea fog blanketed the airport shortly after 4 p.m. and kept about 10 aircraft circling overhead.

Some flights were forced to land at Abbotsford, some 35 miles away, while others waited it out at Patricia Bay on Vancouver Island.

Langford Community Club Shows Profit on Operations for Year

LANGFORD—Financial report of Langford Community Club, read at the annual meeting Wednesday, was the "best in the history of the club," according to Ken Buxton, president.

The report, presented by M. Scotney, secretary-treasurer, showed receipts for the year totalled $2,064.15, and disbursements were $1,943.89.

"We have a profit for the first time since the club undertook to improve the hall and grounds three years ago," Mr. Buxton said.

In that time the hall had been renovated, the entrance had been completed, and about three additional acres of ground acquired, he said.

Election of officers were deferred, but Mr. Scotney resigned as secretary due to business pressure. He will continue as treasurer.

David P. Gardiner was appointed membership committee chairman, and his assistant will be Art Kitley. They will meet Nov. 10 with a third member, yet to be appointed, to take full charge of a membership drive and to begin preparation of a list of members' children for the annual Christmas party.

PARTY FUND

The party fund will benefit from a dance to be held Nov. 12 at the hall, it was announced by Ed Thow, chairman of the dance committee. "A sea-food supper will be served.

Following a ways and means committee report given by Mr. Kitley, it was decided to abandon plans to construct a new hall for the next year. Renovation decided on for the present hall, including painting of the hall, kitchen and stage, repair of draperies, addition of a ladies' cloakroom and provision of a foyer for the door attendant.

Mr. Yates reported membership in the past year had reached 187.

CHEMAINUS-UN RALLY

Victoria Speaker Views Causes of World Trouble

CHEMAINUS—The two causes recognized by the United Nations for most of the trouble in the world today are ignorance and oppression, Dr. A. E. Chatwin, Victoria, said at a UN rally here.

"It also recognizes two revolutions now going on," he said. "One is against national sovereignty and the other against racial and economic inequality."

The UN realized many countries were "slipping away" because there were not enough teachers, doctors, food and clothing to help them.

"We had to tell these people the truth," he said. "We told them we couldn't do any of these things. But we told them we could help them to do these things for themselves."

UNDERSTAND GIFTS

He said backward peoples did not understand talk of liberty and self-government, but they did understand Russia's offers of food. This one reason why nearly one-third of the world is under Communist rule, he said.

"With the United Nations it's not a question of politics, but of humanity," Dr. Chatwin said. "I feel that if you and I believe we have responsibilities to the other fellow, and hate anti-social ideas but not people, then ours will be a much better world."

Chemainus Kin Planning Trip To Mainland

CHEMAINUS—Members of the Chemainus Kinsmen Club will travel to Deep Cove, on the Mainland, Nov. 20, taking with them the famous Kinsmen "traveling gavel."

Originated many years ago as a means of strengthening friendship between the various clubs, the gavel was brought to Chemainus last year by the Lady Smith Club, and has to be taken off the island.

A donation of $15 was made to the Kinsmen National Emergency Relief Fund to aid Ontario hurricane and flood victims.

Larry Tucker has been named club historian. It will be his duty to prepare a history of the local club and its activities in story and picture form.

The club has decided to purchase a trophy to be given at the end of the year to the outstanding Kinsmen. Past president Jim Syme will set up rules governing its awards.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "lived-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's.

Peanut Project Raises $150 For Playground

CHEMAINUS—The popular peanut man made his first appearance in Chemainus, and during his three-day stint helped Kinsmen to raise the $150 required to complete their playground project.

He made his first appearance at the elementary school, and was mobbed by shouting school children. Besides being on hand when Kinsmen canvassed the district selling his wares, "Mr. Peanut" also appeared on the stage of the local theatre while Kinsmen distributed free peanuts to a packed house of cheering children.

Al Humphreys had charge of the peanut project for the club.

Canadian Legion Will Investigate Lounge License

CHEMAINUS—The possibility of applying for a lounge license under the new Liquor Act was discussed by members of the Canadian Legion, Chemainus Branch, at their regular meeting.

A committee was named to investigate the matter thoroughly with a view to learning what building alterations would be necessary in the event that a license was granted, and the cost. Members will submit their report at the next meeting.

Cenotaph committee reported that the cenotaph grounds had been cleaned up following the recent storm. It was decided to have a combined honor guard at the cenotaph for this year's ceremonies, Nov. 11. The guard will consist of two sea cadets and two army cadets.

Work Bees Resume For Langford Scout, Cub Hall

LANGFORD—Ken Buxton, chairman of Langford Cubs and Scouts, announced today that work bees for the Scout Hall will be resumed at 9 a.m. on the Community Club grounds.

Logs are ready for construction of the rustic-type building, but cement for foundations is yet to be poured. It is hoped to complete cribbing Sunday, and pour the foundation Nov. 6. "This can only be accomplished if sufficient volunteer workers turn out," Mr. Buxton said. He suggested that fathers of all Scouts and Cubs attend the work bee. He can be reached at 8-2530 for information.

C. Saanich Chamber Seeks Victoria Help

BRENTWOOD—Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce has asked Hector Crombie, managing secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, to nominate one of the Victoria delegates to represent the district group this weekend at the annual meeting of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce in Vancouver.

The Central Saanich chamber will hold its monthly meeting Nov. 1.

Doctor Resigns

DUNCAN—Dr. J. S. Goodbrand has announced his resignation from North Cowichan council, due to his being unable to give the necessary time to council committee work.

Reeve C. A. P. Morrison said a person who took a council seat should be prepared to sacrifice his own business, but that Dr. Goodbrand could be excused in this regard because of his medical practice.

Seven Alternatives To Buttle Proposal

NANAIMO—The struggle between power interests and those who would preserve the natural habitat of B.C. wild life could be traced to a "failure to examine alternatives to the damming of Buttle Lake," Roderick L. Haig-Brown told Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

Mr. Haig-Brown, a noted author, sportsman and Campbell River magistrate, is possibly the most ardent of the conservationists endeavoring to keep Buttle Lake in its present natural state.

He said that subsequent reconsideration by the B.C. Power Commission had revealed seven alternatives to the damming of the lake which now were being studied and on which a decision could be expected towards the end of the year.

PICTURE NOT TRUE

Contending that a wide difference existed in results of conservationist and power commission surveys which now were being reconciled, he said "we did not believe the commission figures had ever given a true picture of the project."

"The power commission has spent the summer investigating seven different alternatives

R. L. HAIG-BROWN

This indicates a big difference in attitude since the start of the dispute three years ago," he said.

"The commission then did not know how soon and where it would be selling power. Now it knows. It had to choose a place for a power dam where carrying costs would be as low as possible," Mr. Haig-Brown added.

It therefore considered that it would be cheaper to build at Buttle Lake even if a dam might have to be built later at Upper Campbell Lake.

"Now it knows it can sell the power that is produced," he said.

Even if the BCPC were to build a dam at Buttle Lake, another at Upper Campbell Lake would still be necessary in order to provide full storage, he said.

"If they should decide that this is the best course, our quarrel with the power commission is over, but it would not be with the government," he said.

"We would ask a subsidy to the power commission to the extent of whatever was necessary to make up their deficit, whether it was one or two million dollars. It would be an honest subsidy to preserve our park and recreational values," he said.

"Once the matter is settled let us give the public access to the lake. Had the public had access to Buttle Lake the scheme to dam it would never have been put over."

PROVIDE ROADS

"We know our population can use that park."

"Forest management licenses could be revised, and refunds received therefrom should provide funds for roads. After which we should make a start on trails and shelters," he said.

Harry Ewart New President Of Chemainus Ratepayers

CHEMAINUS—Harry Ewart, elected this week to the presidency of Chemainus Ratepayers' Association, promised the close to 40 ratepayers attending that he would reorganize the group and "put it back on its feet."

A letter from North Cowichan Council was read, stating that no stewardship meetings would be held this year, but, that on invitation of ratepayers' association.

Halloween Plans Made At Langford

LANGFORD—Plans for Halloween festivities at Langford Community Club Hall Saturday night were given final approval this week by club officials.

Arrangements include a children's party from 7 to 9 p.m., when "Kid" Baker and his Westerners will play at a concert to be followed by dancing. Refreshments will be served by Community Club members.

At the party, open to all children of the district, there will be hot dogs, bags of candy, prizes for the best fancy dress, and a bonfire in the lower field. Other organizations contributing to the party are Langford Volunteer Fire Department, W.A. to the fire department, Lions Club, and PTA.

tions, council would be pleased to meet with them next month. Members criticized council's discontinuation of the stewardship meetings, but invited members to attend a meeting in Chemainus to report on their year's activities.

Former reeve A. E. Beasley introduced the subject of the proposed Crofton pulp mill. He asked that the association go on record as being in favor of the forest management license. He felt that Crofton would be the site of the pulp mill, but added that regardless of where it was located, it would be of benefit to the whole island.

TERM EXPIRES

Several members felt that while they were personally in accord, the association should not go on record as favoring the move. The motion finally passed following heated discussion.

Retiring president G. B. Morthew told the meeting that the term of Mrs. D. McBride, school trustee for this end of the district, would expire in December, and further that three vacancies would exist this year on North Cowichan Council.

Mrs. McBride was requested to run again, and finally consented. Ed Craig was named to contest one of the council vacancies.

Art Bird was elected secretary. District representatives are: south Chemainus, Mrs. J. Lythgoe; central Chemainus, Mrs. F. A. Albee; north Chemainus, Mrs. E. Beaubien.

ALLIES DENY DEAL TO FREE 178 GERMAN WAR PRISONERS

BONN, Germany (AP)—Spokesmen for the Western Allies Thursday night denied a report that the remaining German war criminals in Allied jails are to be released in preparation for impending West German sovereignty.

British and American officials said no such agreement has been made with the Germans and emphasized there had been no speed-up in releases.

There are 95 prisoners in the U.S. jail at Landsberg, 40 in the British prison at Werl and the French hold 43 at Whittlitch.

Big 4 Powers May Gather Says Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday night he believes Britain, France and the United States probably will accept Russia's invitation to a Big Four meeting following ratification of the new Paris agreements on West Germany.

He added that up to now Soviet reaction to the Paris pact for admitting a rearmament West Germany to NATO have been mild.

Referring to the Soviet invitation to a four-power conference, he said:

"No doubt in due course this invitation will be accepted, but not until these Paris arrangements are in force."

The Paris protocols must be ratified by the 15 NATO countries concerned, and there was "a very good chance" for ratification within three months.

Pilotless Plane To Replace Sabre?

Famed Jet Fighter May Prove Last of Day Fighters; Rocket Also Being Considered

OTTAWA (CP)—The Sabre jet may be the last short-range day fighter plane to be produced in Canada or flown by RCAF pilots.

Officials say the next step in day fighter protection against bombers may be a pilotless plane or ground-launched rocket.

In any case, authorities here say they are not immediately concerned about a successor for the Sabre, the standard fighter for the RCAF air division in Europe.

With the Canadian-designed and Canadian-built Orenda engine, the Sabre is rated here as the best aircraft of its type in operational use today. It has clocked nearly 750 miles an hour in level flight at 7,500 feet. The speed of sound is 760 m.p.h. at sea level.

There have been published reports that other North Atlantic alliance countries are casting about for a new day fighter but, as matters now stand, Canada is content with the Orenda Sabre.

Trust the United States Professional Golfers' Association to keep the sand flying in anyone's eyes during the so-called off-season of golf.

The latest little hassle prompted by the swollen-headed gentry who run this august organization is taking place in Los Angeles and concerns the fact that the PGA and the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles each have tournaments scheduled for the same week in January. One is the $25,000 Inglewood Open, sponsored by the PGA. The other is the Los Angeles Open, under the direction of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The big gimmick, of course, is the long green, with a trailer organization underwriting the PGA event, leaving the poor pros in and around Los Angeles in a peculiar lie.

One Choice

If they don't enter the PGA event, or rather take in the C of C deal, then they face suspension from the PGA tournament parade. If they don't enter the Chamber of Commerce tournament, they will be accused of shirking their civic duty.

But the PGA doesn't care, just as it didn't care to cater to the Negroes a couple of years back.

There was a wicked rip tide of agitation then over the entry of Negro golfers in PGA-sponsored events.

The PGA lost the duke in this one, particularly due to the efforts of Joe Louis who, simply by his name and what it stood for in sport, broke down the barrier that had long existed.

But actually there was no need for such a rhabarb as developed, because really there weren't then, or there aren't now, enough good negro golfers capable of entering competition with the Sam Sneads, the Bob Toskis and the Ed Furgols.

This is not to say there wouldn't be, the negroes being given the same opportunity. And it seems about time that the PGA and clubs took their cue from baseball and opened wide the doors.

Right now though, the list of top-flight negro stars can be counted on the fingers of two hands. This is mostly because they only feel free to play on public courses—they actually are barred from most clubs—and thus don't have the competition needed to produce champions.

Ted's the Tops

About the best of these undoubtedly is Ted Rhodes. He has been in the chips in some PGA tournaments. Originally sponsored by Joe Louis, the Nashville fashion plate paid his expenses in two Tam O' Shanter events and three of the Los Angeles Opens, to name a few of his accomplishments.

Rhodes also wins most of the Colored Opens, where purses range from $1,500 to $5,000, and his place in the game is likely founded on the fact that his father was a locker-man at a club in Memphis.

To give you another idea of what the Negro pro is faced with in attempting to make a career out of the game is the story of Bill Spiller.

A former basketball and track star, Spiller did just about everything from waiting tables to taking a job as a redcap, before he could afford the time to turn his talents to teaching and playing. Even there the scope is limited, only the most affluent Negroes wishing to take lessons making it worth his while to give up packing ladies' handbags.

Willie Moseley is another. He is an assistant pro in Detroit—at a public course. Eural Clark is of the younger set. He clerks in a department store during the week because he has to eat.

It Happened Here

On the same score, there was a slight recus here this summer during the PNGA when a young chap, whose name escapes us for the moment, turned out to be colored when he stepped on the first tee. One tournament official, who should be ignored, remarked on that occasion:

"We'll make sure that does not happen again."

The principal reason then why Negro golfers haven't scaled the heights enjoyed by their brethren in other sports is limited opportunity; but it's also time the cold shoulder against Negroes in golf came to an end.

Have Big Deficit to Erase

Oak Bay Drakes will carry a healthy 13-point lead into the second game of the two-game, total-point series for the Victoria Intermediate Canadian Football League Saturday at Macdonald Park. Mayo Vampires, facing the task of making up the 13 points, have several key players injured but will rely heavily on this trio, left to right, fullback Pete Ash, tackle Gordy Gordienko and end Rick McVie. (Times Photos).

Injuries Hit Vamps; Drakes Title Choice

Mayo Vampires, who did not suffer a major injury all during the Victoria Intermediate Canadian Football League season, are suffering from the opposite extreme.

Thirteen points down to Oak Bay Drakes when the clubs go into the second game of a two-game, total-point series Saturday at Macdonald Park at 2 p.m. Vampires will have five key players sidelined.

Fullback Art Manson is still on the disabled list with a broken hand suffered near the end of the league schedule. Manson this week has been joined by Bob Brown, Don Brownlee, Bob Copeman and Cliff Hooper.

Blocking back Brown tore ligaments in his shoulder last Saturday when he was tackled hard after catching a pass. End Brownlee, one of the toughest wingmen in the league, also has a cracked shoulder; reserve quarterback Copeman has a twisted ankle and end Hooper injured his back at work this week.

However, on the cheerful side for Vampires will be the return of backfielders Charlie Bishop and Cliff Hume.

Speedy Bishop, a reliable ground-gainer, missed last week's playoff game with a leg injury. Hume, Vampires' long distance kicking fullback, has missed two games.

Drakes, who pulled a mild upset last Saturday when they powered to a decisive 130 victory in the first half of the two-game series, hope to have injured tackle Larry Brownlee back in harness. Halfback Don Donahue, Drakes' other injured player, is not expected to play again this season.

Mixing their single-wing attack with fast-breaking split T plays last week, Drakes took the big jump in the series and will be favored to at least hold the 13-point lead Saturday.

'Boom-Boom' Could Bounce Riders Again

WINNIPEG (CP)—Injuries to two import fullbacks on the Winnipeg Blue Bombers' roster may give Lorne Boom Boom Benson a chance to haunt Saskatchewan Roughriders when the two Western Interprovincial Football Union clubs meet in their semi-final opener here Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. CST.

Last year, with Bombers playing host to Riders in the opener of the two-game, total-point semi-final series, Benson ran wild to score a WIFU record six touchdowns in Winnipeg's smashing 43-5 victory. Riders won the second game 18-17 at home, but it was little satisfaction.

As second-place finisher, coach Frankie Filchock of the Riders again has chosen to play the first game at Winnipeg, setting the stage for a possible repeat performance.

Asked if he thought Bombers could do the same thing this year, Filchock replied:

"I hope not... we believe we have a better chance to reach the final in making the trip for the first game."

Second game will be played at

JUNIOR PREP GALA SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Defending champion Oak Bay Junior High School will be attempting to retain the Dickinson and Dunn Trophy team aggregate championship tonight at the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club-sponsored junior high school swimming gala at Crystal Garden.

Some 150 aquatic stars from 12 schools are entered in the event, which commences at 7:15.

Also up for grabs are the Canadian Legion, Britannia Branch Trophy for the boys under 14 relay and the Pendray Trophy for girls under 14 relay.

TO MEET BRAZIL

Free Throw Gives Canada Cage Win

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (BUP)—Canada plays Brazil and the unbeaten United States team, at last pleasing its coach by showing its best game, is matched against winless Uruguay today in games in the round-robin final round of the world amateur basketball championships.

The Peoria, Ill., Caterpillars, who are representing the United States, are tied with Canada and Brazil for the lead in the round-robin with two victories and no defeats each.

Last night, the Americans played their best game so far in trouncing France, 70-49. In other games, Canada beat Uruguay, 67-66, on Ralph Watts' free throw with three seconds to play, and Brazil defeated Israel, 68-46.

Canada's win over Uruguay was "a spine-tingling thriller which saw the Canadians rally from a 35-29 half-time deficit. Oscar Moglia scored 21 points in the first half for Uruguay and wound up as the game's high scorer with 32 points. Due chiefly to his brilliance, the Canadians didn't catch up until only three minutes remained in the game at 59-59. The score was subsequently tied at 61-61, 62-62, 64-64, and 66-66.

There were three seconds left when Martin Acosta Y Lara of Uruguay fouled Watts of the second team. Watts sank one of his two free throws for a 67-66 lead and the game ended before Uruguay could get off a shot at the basket.

Don Gresham and Wally Parobec were high scorers for Canada with 14 points each and Carl Ridd had 11.

Chief Gets Mat Draw

Agapless Chief Thunderbird grappled to a draw with Frank Faketty at Victoria Ballroom Thursday night in his final scheduled wrestling appearance here before leaving for a 38-day tour of England.

Gino Angelo continued his main-event mastery by taking the third and deciding fall from Jack Kiser to post his third main event win in as many weeks.

Gordie Gordienko, who was a substitute for Claire Robinson of Vancouver, dropped a decision to Angus Scott in the opener.

Riders also have some "cripples" in end Mac Speedie and backs Larry Isbell and Bobby Marlow, but all three probably will dress for the opener.

PREDICTS UNIFORM RULES IN CANADA, U.S.

Sleepy Jim Likes Our Grid But...

By JIM BASTABLE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Sleepy Jim Crowley likes Canadian football—with a couple of reservations.

"I go for Canada's game," he said in an interview. "I wouldn't be surprised to see the National Football League and the Canadian League give and take a little and some day end up with the same rules."

The 51-year-old Crowley, a member of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen with Elmer Layden, Harry Stuhldreher, and Don Miller in the early '20's, is a commentator with NBC on telecasting of Big Four games to the United States.

After watching nearly a season of Canadian professional football, Jim made these observations:

"The rouge is good. The single point eliminates most of the games. They should adopt it in the U.S."

"The extra 12 yards in width in the Canadian field makes a big difference; gives teams more room in which to run or kick. The deeper end zones are made to order for touchdown passes."

American imports notice the difference in the field too. The Canadian gridiron is 110 yards long, 65 yards wide and has a 25-yard end zone. The U.S. field is 100 yards long, 53 yards wide and a 10-yard end zone.

"I don't particularly go for the 'three downs,' the five-foot-nine Crowley said.

"They limit a quarterback to a pattern in his strategy. If he doesn't get far on a ground play, you count on a second-down pass. He may cross you up, but not often. In the American game the quarter has a down to play around with. He can mix up his plays."

Jim would like to see unlimited blocking in Canada.

"I can't get this no-blocking rule through my noggin. It's an important part of the game. With the blocking there are more spectacular runs."

Baseball Era Near End As A's on Block Again

Bid Rejected; Kansas City Renews Hope

NEW YORK (UP)—Kansas City's almost-dead hopes of obtaining the Philadelphia Athletics flared into new life today now that the American League has blocked the sale of the team to a Philadelphia syndicate.

"I still hope to bring the A's to Kansas City," said Chicago real estate man Arnold Johnson. "They (the league's club owners) turned down my competitor and naturally that makes me feel optimistic. I will meet with my attorneys shortly to discuss our next move."

In Kansas City, the once-disappointed fans weren't letting their enthusiasm carry them away but Mayor William E. Kemp declared, "Our feelings have not changed."

"We'll still be awfully happy to have them," said Kemp. "The enthusiasm for the Athletics will be revived in Kansas City on assurance they're coming. They'll have a great season here."

Johnson's Kansas City group was left alone in the bidding for the Athletics' franchise when the American League club owners voted in a meeting here against approval of the Mack family's sale of the team to an eight-man Philadelphia syndicate.

Besides selling to Johnson, the only alternative that seems open to the Macks now would be to go on operating the team themselves—and the chances of that seem remote.

NO SOLUTION YET

But there is no certain solution of the problem in sight and Dan Topping, owner of the New York Yankees, who spearheaded the opposition to the Philadelphia group, admitted as much when he said, "Now we are right back where we started from a month ago."

And at least two owners—Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators and Walter O. (Spike) Briggs of the Detroit Tigers—insist they still are opposed to moving the team to Kansas City.

Griffith, who was represented at the meeting by his son, Calvin, said in Washington that he was "sorry" the league voted down the Philadelphia group and added, "I don't think they'll vote for Johnson to go to Kansas City—I hope not."

Griffith believes he and Briggs may be joined in their opposition to Kansas City by the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox.

Transfer of a franchise to a new city requires a vote of six of the eight league club owners, and thus a move might be blocked by the anti-Kansas City group. But Johnson maintains that a new vote on his offer isn't necessary, since the league voted approval of a transfer to Kansas City at its meeting in Chicago on Oct. 12.

"Yesterday's action bore out my contention that the club was really sold to me in Chicago," said Johnson.

LONG MEETING

Rejection of the Philadelphia group came after a 6½-hour meeting, which began with the owners listening to a personal plea from 32-year-old Connie Mack for approval of the deal.

The beloved "Mr. Mack" made his appeal, then rested in another room while the owners deliberated.

Argos Must Win, But Need Help Too

By the Canadian Press

Toronto Argonauts, once the toughest chips-down football team in Canada, shoot the works against Montreal Alouettes Saturday in an attempt to stay in the Big Four playoff running.

They need help from Ottawa Rough Riders this time.

There are plenty of ifs. A loss in Montreal will make Argos forget about playoffs and the annual Grey Cup classic. If they win, it won't mean much unless the downtrodden Rough Riders pull a surprise victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in Ottawa.

Here is how things stand with only three games left in the 14-game schedule:

The Alts, in first place with 18 points, are guaranteed a playoff spot. The Ticats have 14 points, four ahead of Argonauts. If Toronto and Hamilton win, the race will go on for another week. If Ticats lose and Argonauts win, Toronto could still move into the two-team playoffs or force a sudden-death game to decide who will take on the Alts.

GRID FINAL

EDMONTON (CP)—Coach Frank Pop Ivy of Edmonton Eskimos announced at a supporters' club meeting Thursday the team will open the best-of-three Western Interprovincial Football Union playoffs in Edmonton, Nov. 6.

That's how he got the Sleepy Jim tag.

Connie Mack Pleads In Vain

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The death watch of a dynasty apparently was over today. A bid by a group of Philadelphiaans to buy the stock of the Athletics and keep them in the city which has been their home for 54 years was turned down by the American League.

With it goes a baseball era—and the living legend named Connie Mack can't be far behind. At 92 it is hard to steady your faltering steps when your life work goes up in the cigar smoke shrouding a conference table. That happened to Connie late yesterday and when he left the meeting on the arm of his chauffeur-vallet he made an attempt to fix that old familiar smile on his gaunt face.

It and his erectness lasted through the gauntlet of sympathetic sports writers who watched silently as he walked down the carpeted corridor into the baseball record books. Then, as he left them behind, tears welled up in the pale blue eyes which once saw everything that transpired in the deepest outfield as he guided his fabled while elephants to nine American League pennants.

The silver-haired patriarch of the baseballs had made two hopeful trips to that conference room where the fate of his beloved ball club was being decided by men yet unborn or playing childish games when he founded his dynasty 54 years ago.

FOR HIS SAKE

And while he rested, one of his sons, Earle, paced the hallway and hoped that the league would approve the sale to the Philadelphiaans.

"I want to keep it there for Connie's sake," Earle said. "It means everything to him to keep it in Philadelphia—everything." Waiting anxiously, too, were the Philadelphiaans who made a last-ditch effort to keep the club in Philadelphia.

They all watched Connie with the eyes of kids waiting outside the gates of old Shibe Park as he came slowly back to the conference room that second time. And they knew when he came out a short time later with his lips a thin, tight line striving to force a grin that he and they had struck out.

Nobody spoke to him and Connie said not a word as he walked down that hall.

Hall Spokesman For Vancouver Baseball Group

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A committee of five headed by sportsman Coley Hall will investigate possibilities of obtaining a Pacific Coast Baseball League franchise for Vancouver.

Hall, manager of the Vancouver Canucks Hockey Club, was named to head the committee at a meeting Wednesday with Mayor Fred Hume.

Hall said he would fly to San Francisco late next week to meet owner Brick Lewis of the Oakland Oaks to discuss the transfer of a PCL franchise, possibly that of the Oakland club.

"Hall" said Vancouver would save $300,000 if a transfer of a franchise could be arranged.

Efforts to obtain a PCL berth for Vancouver began following the demise of the Western International Baseball League.

Totems Meet Grads In Prep Cage Opener

Victoria High School Totems will make their initial appearance here this season before a noisy crowd of students tonight at the school gym, when they hoop shots against the Grads in an exhibition basketball game.

Perennial favorites to capture at least the city inter-high school championship, Totems have been working out for about one month under the watchful eyes of coach George "Porky" Andrews and are expected to flash a speedy attack tonight.

The squad was cut to 12 players Thursday by coach Andrews, who plans now to start polishing up plays.

Eight players are returning from last year's club, while four youths will be making their first appearance in Totems' colors.

Returnees are centre Bob Tomlinson, forwards Ken McCulloch, Bud Rutherford, Waldo Skillings, Jr., Den Perry and guards Tom English, Bill Abbott and Ed Kowalyk.

Newcomers to the team are guards Terry Lore and Jim Leask and forwards Brian Woolridge and Doug Jones.

ONE QUALITY—THE BEST

OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

You won't find many, if any, better bucktail fly tiers around town than genial Dave Gray, the guy who dabbles in ship's anchors and hull paint.

Dave ties flies as a side-line but his finished product is so good that he could probably make a good living if he could devote more time to whipping up flies.

Charlie Guiguet is usually recognized as the top bucktail angler in these hereabouts and his theories on the use of flies are taken as gospel. But Charlie makes no bones about admitting that he uses Dave's creations exclusively and gives them credit for much of his success.

Boyd

Fly-tying is not for the heavy-thumbed. You need patience and a delicate touch or you'll wind up covered with polar-bear hair, cement and tinsel. Without the proper technique your product will look like something sold door to door by a brush salesman.

Bucktail flies are nothing new but the type used on the Island is unique and to Gray must go much of the credit. Streamer flies, with their long bushy bodies, were the original bucktails but the shorter-bodied bucktails as we know them are almost exclusive. Gray was one of the first tiers using the trailing rear or "sneaker" hook. And you have probably noticed that you catch the majority of your fish on the rear hook.

Now we would never hope here to tell you all the steps that Dave puts into tying a fly but we can pass on a few of his tips for better flies. Dave, incidentally, can tie a fly in seven minutes flat.

One of the first and most important steps, Dave says, is to comb the clipped polar bear hair after it is cut to size. This combing eliminates the fine body hair that is not desired and cuts down on the size of the head of the fly.

Dave recommends that the entire fly be no longer than four inches.

For the body wrapping, Dave uses French tinsel. For the head wrapping, he uses waxed nylon, an important point, because the nylon ties flat and tight, avoiding the bulky head that can ruin the action of your fly. He uses a prepared cement on the head instead of shellac because the cement "takes" better over the waxed wrapping.

For the body hook, Dave uses a 4/0 for the sneaker hook, a gold 2/0. They are joined with 15-pound test nylon leader material.

He dyes his own bear hair, using household dyes and fixes the dye by dipping the fly in vinegar.

And do they work? Well, someday when you have several hours, just ask Charlie Guiguet.

Chick Newman and Norm Lambrick, demon river heaters, had a whopping time in the Cowichan River last Sunday.

They were fishing the log jam above Skutz Falls, using spinning gear. Chick hooked and landed a bright 9-pound coho casting a Flatfish and Norm picked up four nice Brown Trout, the biggest going about 3 1/2 pounds.

They saw one fellow, using light tackle, hook into a salmon that must have been close to 20 pounds. While watching him play the fish in a pool, Chick and Norm noticed the angler had no waders, just tennis sneakers.

The big fish took off downstream and the angler took off with it, running through icy water up to his hips. Five minutes later he returned, without his fish and soaked to the skin. However, he went over to his car, peeled off his wet garments and changed into a new set of duds and resumed his fishing. He had come well prepared.

The grise in Saanich Inlet are plentiful and are climbing up around the 1 1/2-pound mark. They are starting to hit abalones like crazy. . . . John Olsen and Bill Heaney just returned from a bird-shooting trip to Brooks, Alta., and John is singing the praises of his young bird-dog, Joe. John and Bill both limited in pheasants, thanks to Joe. Don Marshall reports the duck shooting around Courtenay and Comox is the best in years. Says he has never seen anything like it. Unsettled weather is the only gamble in a trip up that way. . . . Wes Fulton, who does take time off occasionally from VSIAA work, picked up three coho in front of Bamberton recently, the biggest going 15 pounds. Took it on a Strip-Tearer fitted with a strip of girdle rubber.

New Scoring System Proposed in Boxing

NEW YORK (UP)—Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Commission was expected to propose today a new three-point scoring system for boxing in the state, to replace the round-by-round method.

Under the new system, neither fighter would receive a point for an even round. It would be 0-0. And no boxer would receive a point for a lost round. A round-winner would be credited with points as follows: Good margin, 1-0, excellent margin, 2-0, and very superior margin, 3-0.

Christenberry believes the three-point method would credit a winner properly for his efforts in a round and at the same time simplify the tabulation at the end of a fight. He regards the National Boxing Association's "ten-count" system as too laborious for ring officials working under pressure at the ringside. The N.B.A. system gives a round winner 10 points and the loser nine, eight, seven, etc., depending upon the margin of loss.

Under the current New York system, each of the three ring officials gives the fight to the winner of the most rounds. However, if an official scores the fight even on rounds, he can "backstop" and determine the winner on points by using New York's auxiliary four-point system. The four-point method is quite similar to the proposed three-pointer.

The chairman wishes to scrap the rounds system entirely and decide a winner solely by the three-point system.

Jakes Gets 100th Goal

By The Canadian Press

Veteran Don Jakes of the Vernon Canadians scored his 100th goal in Okanagan Senior Hockey League company Thursday night but his club failed to take over the league leadership.

The Canadians went down, 6-5, in Kelowna where the packers now boast top spot in the league by virtue of a single point.

Kelowna took a 3-2 first-period lead on goals by Swarbrick, Bruce Lea and Don Culley. Vernon marksmen were Odie Lowe and Frank King. Mike Durban scored to open the second period and then Jakes, playing his sixth season in the OSHL, replied with his 100th.

Bill Chalmers scored twice in the third period for Kelowna before Vernon fought back into the game on markers by Hildebrand and King.

Fletcher's Triumph

Coach Lou McCorkall's Cec Fletcher's junior basketball team flashed a torrid attack Thursday night to whip Naden, 107-35, in an exhibition basketball game at Naden. Paul Simpson paced the winners with 32 points, while Gary Gilbert hooped 19 points and Ken Murray hit for 18.

Canucks May Sign Westminster Pair

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two former New Westminster Royals players, involved in the recent dispute between owner Kenny McKenzie and coach Frank Dotten, have journeyed across town for a work-out with the Vancouver Canucks, arch-rivals of the Royals in the Western Hockey League.

Gerry Penner and Valerie Fonteyne, released Wednesday, will work with the Canucks forward line, and will know very soon whether they have jobs.

The pair belong to Dotten, who quit as coach of the Royals and offered them to Canucks. Art Chapman, coach of the currently-idle, third-place Canucks, said that even if taken on, they will not appear in Friday's clash with Saskatoon on home ice.

Easy Cage Triumph

McMorran's juvenile basketball team made a successful debut in the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League by defeating Brentwood juniors, 31-17, Thursday night at the Lake Hill gym.

The winners held a 13-7 lead at the half. Tom Hardy and Gary Bishop paced the winners' attack with 12 points each, while Dave Paul topped the losers with a six-point effort.

REFUSED RECOGNITION

City Grid Snubbed By Western Union

Officials of the Victoria Junior Canadian Football League were hit in the face with a wet towel Thursday when they were refused recognition by the Western Interprovincial Football Union and the Vancouver Junior Big Four.

The four-team league, affiliated with the junior division of the WIFU, was refused the right to contest the B.C. junior crown and the Vancouver champion will be named provincial titlist.

Seth Halton, Victoria Canadian Football Union president, has been negotiating for a Victoria-Vancouver final but has been unsuccessful.

Halton said the Vancouver junior league turned down the series, claiming there was no time to meet a Victoria team as the B.C. winner was scheduled to take on Calgary, November 6 at Calgary.

Halton suggested a mid-week series, with Vancouver having the option of naming the site and the financial arrangements. This proposal was also turned down.

In addition, the junior committee of the WIFU, asked by the Victoria league to rule on such a series voted it down by a 6-1 vote. WIFU refused to order the series but left it up to the Victoria and Vancouver leagues to work out their own decision.

Bay Cagers Win

Two Cordova Bay basketball teams were victorious Thursday night in exhibition basketball games on their home court. Bays trounced Sidney, 32-18, in a juvenile-senior B contest, while Cordova Bay midget boys shaded Sooke, 11-6. Brentwood scored a 19-2 victory over Cordova Bay in a midget girls' game.

Council-Magistrate Dispute Cleared Up

Parents of Offending Juveniles Will Be Warned if Fine Considered by Prosecutor

City Council Thursday concluded its argument with Magistrate Henry C. Hall with regard to how juvenile cases should be handled.

Ald. William Pinfold, chairman of a special committee which council sent to interview the magistrate on the matter, reported "certain misunderstanding of legal procedure" had been cleared up by Deputy Attorney-General H. A. Maclean and that Magistrate Hall intended to implement this procedure.

"I feel this now clears up the matter," Ald. Pinfold said.

Ald. Frank Mulliner, who Aug. 12 moved that council should ask the magistrate to resign because of his handling of juvenile cases, thereupon moved that his resolution be lifted from the table where it has been for the last 11 weeks.

CAN ACT NOW

"After all the froth has been blown away, it boils down to this, Ald. Mulliner said. "The magistrate is now going to do what the police commission asked him to do for two years."

Ald. Mulliner's complaint against the magistrate had been that he did not impose fines against parents of youngsters convicted of juvenile offenses.

Magistrate Hall's contention was that while the law said such fines could be imposed nowhere was procedure laid down where by parents could be charged and tried in this connection. He took the position that it would be unjust to levy fines against persons without giving them the right to a trial.

The magistrate felt to bring them to trial they would have to be formally charged. And this, he felt, was a matter for the prosecutor.

WARNING NEEDED

On this point Mr. Maclean wrote Magistrate Hall: "While I am of the opinion no such explicit warning to the parent is strictly necessary, I agree with you that, in cases where the prosecutor intends to ask for an imposition of a fine on the parent, that some warning of his intention might well be given."

"I would suggest, therefore, that in fairness to the parent, the prosecutor, in a case where he intends to ask for a fine against the parent, might well attach to the notice of hearing which is served upon the parent a letter warning the parent that it is intended to ask the judge to exercise the powers provided under Section 22 (1) to impose a fine on the parent, and, further, that it is intended to adduce evidence that the parent had conducted to the commission of the offense by neglecting to exercise due care of the child."

"I would suggest that the hearing against the child proceed in the ordinary way up to the point of adjudication. If the child is found guilty of delinquency, the magistrate can then receive further evidence with regard to the parent with respect to the child, in much the same manner as he would receive evidence after a plea of guilty in an ordinary court. Then, if the magistrate finds that there has been such neglect on the part of the parent as to justify the imposition of a fine on the parent, he can proceed accordingly."

Ald. Pinfold said Magistrate Hall had assured him he would follow this procedure.

The mayor at the conclusion of Ald. Pinfold's remarks, commended Ald. Mulliner for having raised the issue.

"The magistrate was wrong," said the mayor. "The prosecutor and the police court is right. The attorney-general's department is right. It is a good thing it was brought up or this thing might have gone on for years."

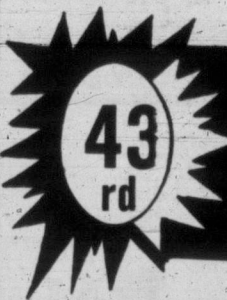

The mayor told aldermen they, not the police commission, were responsible for administration of justice and revealed that he might set up in 1955 a committee on justice "to see that justice is carried out in this municipality."

Tories Retain Seat In U.K. By-Election

ALDRSHOT, Eng. (Reuters)—The Conservatives retained their parliamentary seat in a by-election here Thursday. Conservative Sir Eric Errington polled 19,108 votes to defeat Labor candidate, William Cuthbertson, who had 12,701, for a majority of 6,407.

The by-election was called after the elevation of Oliver Lyttelton, former colonial secretary, to the peerage.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices were erratic today on the Winnipeg grain exchange in fairly active trading which involved closing out operations in connection with October contracts.

There was fair commercial demand in oats and barley with purchases by domestic shippers and U.S. buyers. There were reports that parcel lots of barley had been sold Thursday to the United Kingdom.

The IWA and domestic drums were up 1/4 cent. Other top-grade wheat prices were unchanged.

Private Schools for Young Offenders Proposed by MLA

VANCOUVER (CP)—The founding of private schools for young offenders ordinarily sent to the Boys' Industrial School was proposed Thursday by Bert Price, Social Credit member of the legislature for Vancouver-Burrard.

Autoist Fined $35

Robert Hunt, 4481 Prospect, was fined $35 or five days when he pleaded guilty in Saanich court to driving while his license was under suspension. He did not hold required insurance against accident.

Mr. Price said he did not agree with the policy of having a single institution to handle such a large number of boys and that he would ask the next session of the legislature to encourage such action.

The cost of sending boys to the industrial school amounts to $3,000 each annually and the government is "not getting the supervision it is paying for."

The government's present plan is to re-establish the school in modern quarters now nearing completion at Brannan Lake near Nanaimo.

CAN IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

25th Anniversary Of Stock Mart Crash

By GEORGE LINTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Twenty-five years ago stock prices suffered the steepest slide in history. Oct. 29, 1929, known to stock-brokers the world over as "black Tuesday," was the worst day of the great market crash. On that day about $25,000,000,000 was cut from the value of stocks listed on the New York exchange and the shock touched off a slump in share values all over the world.

Now, 25 years later, investors are asking: Can it happen again? The consensus among brokers: "It's highly unlikely."

DIFFERENT PICTURE

"There's all the difference of night and day between the 1929 stock price picture and the present one," said J. K. Crawford, members of the Toronto stock exchange. Prices at Toronto and on other exchanges now are on an average level only slightly below the 1929 highs. "But present prices are soundly based in intelligent investment," said another Toronto broker, J. H. Christie of R. A. Daly and Company. "In 1929 the high levels resulted from speculative gambling." Many practices that pyramided prices in the late 20s have since been outlawed.

Then you could buy a stock for as little as 5 per cent down. For a $50 investment you could hold $1,000 worth of stocks. If your stocks appreciated to $1,500 you could sell, take your $500 profit and use it to buy $10,000 worth.

YMCA, YWCA Hostels Escape Tax Sale

The YMCA and YWCA buildings today were taken off the list of properties to be sold at tax sale Monday.

The two hostels were saved from going under the auctioneer's hammer by payment into City Hall of $4,984, covering 1952 taxes owing on both properties.

The money was made available Thursday afternoon by the board of directors of the Community Chest.

Ralph Mathews, Chest president, said today the tax payment did not mean the YMCA and YWCA were being given an additional share of Chest revenue.

WOMEN GET PERU VOTE
LIMA, Peru (UP)—President Manuel Odría said today women will be allowed to vote in the 1956 presidential election for the first time in Peruvian history.

Payment of their taxes, he said, would be kept in mind when the Chest makes its allocation of funds to all its agencies for 1955. Indication was that the amount of the tax payment will be deducted from what the two Ys would have otherwise received.

Talk on Dogs Wins Prize for Oratory

A strong appeal for proper training, and handling of dogs won the weekly club trophy for George Christie at the regular weekly meeting of Camosun Toastmaster's Club held at McEwen's dining room Wednesday evening.

Mr. Christie contended that fifteen minutes a day devoted to training a dog can make him an asset to the community. The speech program was presided over by Don Branter and included a talk on the care of a watch by Bill Badyk, jeweler, and a protest against selling Victoria as "a little bit of old England" by Art Harrop.

CHIEF ANDY PAULL ILL; FLOWN HOME FROM OTTAWA

VANCOUVER (CP)—Andy Paull, one of Canada's best known Indian spokesmen, is being flown here from eastern Canada for further treatment of an undisclosed ailment that sent him to hospital in Ottawa 10 days ago.

Paull, 62, was stricken while presiding over the recently concluded convention of the North American Indian Brotherhood in Montreal. Department of Indian affairs officials called his wife east when they discovered his condition was serious.

B.C. Indian Schools Operating On High Plane Says Educator

The standard of education in B.C. Indian schools is on a par with public school education in the province, according to A. V. Parminter, regional director of education for the Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa.

Speaking to members of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society at the Victoria Arts Centre Thursday night, Mr. Parminter said that provincial Indian schools now use the same curriculum as public schools.

About 7,200 Indians are enrolled in 60 day schools, 15 residential schools and three hospital schools. Not all are children either. A large number of adults and even elderly Indians in the hospital schools are learning to read and write, he told members.

Centennial Church To Mark Anniversary

Sixty-eight years of worship will be marked this week-end by Centennial United Church with anniversary services on Sunday and a turkey dinner Monday evening.

Two outstanding clergies, Rev. W. Buckingham, BA, chairman of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church, and Dr. Cyrus E. Albertson of the First Methodist Church, Seattle, will address the gatherings and a special musical program under the direction of Peter Cope-land has been arranged.

First started as a Sunday school by workers of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Centennial was conducted as a mission for several years. In 1886 it was organized as Victoria North Methodist Church with Rev. J. W. Wadman as pastor.

GREW RAPIDLY
Congregations met in what is now the church hall, but the growth of the church was such that in 1891 plans were made for the present structure with its seating accommodation of 800.

The church got its name of "Centennial" from the circumstance that 1891 marked the 100th year since the death of John Wesley, father of methodism.

Important milestones in Centennial's history came in 1925 when it became the first home of radio broadcasting in Victoria, the regular Sunday services being heard by listeners; in 1933 the old manse was demolished and the present one constructed, largely by the voluntary efforts of church members; later the Sunday school building and church hall were completely remodeled to keep pace with the growth and provide more room for mid-week activities.

Services Sunday will be in charge of Rev. Douglas B. Carr who has been minister for the past two years.

Rev. W. Buckingham will be the speaker at the 11 o'clock service, with Dr. Anderson the guest at the evening service, 7.30.

FAMILY TRADITION
Himself the son of a Methodist minister, Dr. Albertson has two sons in the ministry. He has been preaching in Seattle since 1949 and his voice is well known to Victorians through his broadcast sermons.

A man of action, he was a Duncan MacBride Elected Provost Of New Society

Duncan MacBride was elected Provost of the newly-formed Saltire Society this week. Deputy Provost is Tom Taylor.

Others elected include: Major D. M. A. Murray, scrivener; J. Whiston Stephen, remembrancer; Capt. R. W. McMurray, RNR, presbyter; David Cooper, historian; and James R. Marrs, Saltire Herald.

The Saltire Society was started here to maintain an educational, historical and social link between Scotland and Canada so that the close relationships between the two countries should not be forgotten.

DR. C. E. ALBERTSON

sergeant in the First World War and is a mountain climber and interpreter of nature of some note. He holds the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, at which city he was later pastor of the First Methodist Church.

For the anniversary dinner Monday in the church hall, Dr. Albertson will be the principal speaker and solos will be sung by the celebrated baritone, W. Stanley Martin. There will be two servings, at 5.30 and 6.30.

Sterilization Decision Stirs Controversy

PARIS (UP)—The French Academy of Medicine Thursday recommended the sterilization of women whose lives might be lost through pregnancy.

The decision, in strongly Roman Catholic France was certain to cause considerable controversy. It was handed down in answer to a question about medical ethics.

The academy's move disagreed with the conclusions of the Congress of Catholic doctors held in Dublin, Ireland, last July. The congress refused to admit any form of sterilization, even when pregnancy probably would mean the death of the mother.

Ontario Veterans Protest CMH Sales-Tags on Homes

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (BUP)—Three hundred veterans will take the city's political leaders on a tour of their Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation homes Saturday to prove they're not worth the price tags the government has put on them.

The tenants also have sent a brief to Ottawa listing seven charges against the corporation's sale methods and 16 complaints about the way the houses are built.

The tenants organized their protests when the government gave them six months to buy them at prices ranging from $7,800 to $8,700.

Their chairman, D. H. McEwen, said the homes cost the government about $4,000 each and were worth almost $2,000 less than the price being asked.

JOBSEEKERS OVERRUN SEAWAY CITY

CORNWALL, Ont. (BUP)—A flood of jobless men looking for work on the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects has boosted relief payments by 100 per cent or more in a few months, officials reported today.

Many unemployed workers have transferred their benefit claims to Cornwall and moved in here until the projects start, Relief agencies said the situation is "becoming critical."

New Form of Snakeroot Remedy 'Incredible' in Treating Insane

CHICAGO (AP)—A research team today reported dramatic and seemingly "incredible" results in treating "hopelessly" insane patients with a new form of an old snakeroot remedy from India.

They said the drug, reserpine, brought improvement in 80 per cent of the 74 "backward" mental hospital patients they treated. Eight have been discharged and 20 others have become so much better with continued use of the drug that they may be sent home on leave of absence.

The doctors said reserpine should not be regarded as a "panacea in the treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded." However, if further studies bear out their results, "reserpine will be the most important therapeutic development in the history of psychiatry."

They said they expect it to revolutionize psychiatric treatment. Reserpine is a chemically pure derivative of rauwolfia serpentina. This Indian plant has been used for centuries in the treatment of mental illness, insomnia, snake bite, anxiety states and other conditions.

School Expansion Plan Under Final Scrutiny

Details of the Greater Victoria school board's $3,407,215 expansion program, which will come before ratepayers in December, likely will be made known next week.

Education Minister Ray Wiliston said today officials of his department were in the final stage of screening the plans and that he expected they would be returned to the school board next week.

Plans must have department approval before the government assumes its 50 per cent share of the cost.

Further indication was received today that the new program, in general, follows the same pattern as laid out in last year's $3,300,000 by-law defeated at the polls.

Only major differences, as far as can be determined, is a new Colquitz Junior High School proposed for Burnside Tillicum and a new elementary school intended to be built between Douglas and Glenford, near Judah.

New projects believed to be carried over from last year are for new elementary schools at Marigold, near Jasmine, Gordon Head and Macaulay.

LARGE ADDITIONS

Schools understood to be slated for major additions (eight or six rooms) are: Oaklands, Cedar Hill, Willows, George Jay and Lampson Street. It is understood the board plans to eliminate entirely the present Spring Ridge School.

Additions of about four rooms likely will be made at Cloverdale, Doncaster, McKenzie Avenue and View Royal. These schools presently have shift systems in operation.

Another major project being revived, according to available information, is a $210,000 addition to the F. T. Fairley Vocational-Technical unit at Victoria High School.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is a movement afoot to do something about restoring the Gorge as a scenic and recreation area which this city could view with pride.

I hate to throw cold water on the project, but I am afraid it is doomed to failure.

Doing something about the Gorge is much too sensible an idea to succeed.

To be sure of success, you need a project along the lines of "improving" Holland Point, which is sufficiently foolish to be carried through to completion.

However, I do think the Gorge Waterways and Park Improvement Association should be given every encouragement to continue their efforts. Some of them are very good indeed.

I especially like their plan to take a group of our leading politicians on a boat ride up the Gorge waterway.

Constituents may make their own nominations for the ones they would most like to see LEFT up the waterway.

I understand that dredging operations to deepen the Gorge would cost a great deal of money. But there is a cheaper way of achieving deeper water.

Instead of laboriously digging out three feet of mud from UNDER the water, why not add three feet of water on TOP of the water?

There is lots of water floating around in Juan de Fuca Strait which isn't doing anything much. In fact, Juan de Fuca Strait has water it hasn't even used yet.

This water could easily be transported to the Gorge by a bucket brigade manned by citizen volunteers.

I am sure the Tourist Trade Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce would be glad to organize this. And the cost of the project would be negligible or even less.

With the level of the water raised, it would be a simple matter to restore the old park and the Japanese Tea Gardens. (It is okay to restore the Japanese gardens. The Japanese are our friends now. I think).

And if you're worrying about where the money would come from, there is always the Capital City Grant.

Perhaps it is not too late for the city beautifiers to stop wasting $50,000 on Holland Point and spend it where it would do some good—up the Gorge.

I think this a gorgeous idea. Real Gorge, in fact.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Work will start Monday on construction of a $92,341 building that will house Island Dairies Co-operative Association on the southwest corner of Blanshard and Queens. Contract was signed today by Dan Chapman, president of the dairies' firm, and Walter Luney of Luney Bros. and Hamilton, the contracting firm. The building will cover 10,400 square feet and will include a partial second story for administration offices and a small retail store fronting the street-level section.

TAIL WAGGER ASKS:

Don't Frighten Your Pets With Firecrackers

Tail Wagger, whose column appears every Saturday in the Victoria Daily Times, makes an appeal for consideration of dogs during the Halloween season.

"I do not begrudge children their fun," he writes, "but I do wish to appeal to merry-makers to refrain from setting off fireworks in the presence of animals."

"There is no more pitiful sight than that of a dog which has been scared by a firecracker. I have made it a practice to stay with my dogs during these celebrations; this gives them confidence and allays their fears."

DROODLES

My youngest sister, Lucy Mildred, once took a correspondence course in Toupee Making. The school had many other interesting courses such as "Zepelin Polishing," "Band-aid Removing" and "Double Parking" but she decided that Toupee Making was the most practical (an excellent choice—Lucy Mildred had a slight bald spot). After the second lesson Lucy Mildred went to work and made a toupee for Grandfather Tooten. She got the hair from our sheep dog, "Buck" (he was shedding anyway) and within a week she had made Grandfather a lovely brown and white wig. He has worn it ever since even though he has to sprinkle it with flea powder every morning. And every time he gets near a bone, it sits up and tips his hat.

NO BOSS

World Beat 'Vacation' For Newsman

By TONY DICKASON

An affable, 40-year-old New Yorker, who has "a continual vacation, for which I'm paid," is a guest today at the Empress Hotel.

He is John Hughes, travel editor of the New York Daily News, who logs about 100,000 miles yearly for the 2,250,000 daily circulation tabloid (4,000,000 on Sundays) and has been keeping up this hectic pace since 1947.

As the old saying goes, are you broadened by travel, Mr. Hughes?

"On the contrary, I've lost 50 pounds. I used to be 250," said the six-foot three-inch world roamer.

In the last short while, he has visited Peru, Europe, Hawaii, Central America, all the states and eastern Canada.

For his weekly column, "Wheels, Keels and Wings," he tries to write as the average visitor sees a place, like the average tourist.

He is an advocate of the "travel light" school. "I put in all the things I think I'll need, then cut it in half. But when my wife is with me this gets a little tough."

Mr. Hughes, who started with the News 20 years ago as a copy boy, then handled various "beats," including the hot-and-heavy police beat in New York, is here only one day before taking off for a convention of travel people in San Francisco.

"I always look forward to new places," he said. Next stop after San Francisco? Guatemala.

Hands Across the Pacific!

It was "reciprocity day" today for both Victoria Chamber of Commerce and Honolulu Chamber of Commerce when gifts representative of two far-apart areas were exchanged as goodwill gesture.

Above, C.M. (Bob) Nelles, chairman of chamber tourist group; hands carved totem to J. R. Veltmann, member of Honolulu chamber's reception committee who brought Hawaiian delicacies such as sliced papaya and poi, from Honolulu businessmen as gift.

Veltmann, "a transplanted Texan" fixed Lahala hat on Nelles, dropped lei around his neck. Plaque on totem says "Kia-how-ya Tillicum," meaning "Greetings Friend." (Times Photo).

Two Youths Injured In Fog Accidents

Two youths were casualties in a heavy, swirling fog which settled over many parts of South Vancouver Island Thursday night, slowing city traffic and grounding aircraft at Patricia Bay.

The fog was the worst this year and forced cars to move at a crawl in some areas where visibility was reduced to near zero.

More is forecast for tonight. Traffic accidents were comparatively few, police reported. One car in Esquimalt ran up on a sidewalk and hit a pole, while another 1937 model car struck an Esquimalt-bound bus on Johnson Street Bridge and failed to stop.

The two youths injured were: Brian Tucker, 15, of Brentwood, a cyclist, who came into collision with a slow-moving car.

TRAFFIC JAMS

Saanich police said they encountered traffic jams on Shelbourne and Richmond Streets where visibility for a time was reduced to a few feet.

At Langford and Colwood, motorists reported visibility was reduced to about 30 feet for about an hour.

The fog began to lift at about 8 p.m., but lasted for longer periods in some low-lying areas.

Young Burglar Sentenced to Correction School

Pleading guilty to a charge of breaking, entering and theft, Donald Allan Geisser, 19, of 760 Kings Road, was sentenced in city police court today to 18 months indefinite at the New Haven school of correction.

The youth was charged with breaking and entering George Bunn's garage on Herald Street and stealing some motor oil.

Geisser also faces a charge in Oak Bay police court of breaking and entering Saunders and Hitchenman Service Station, Cadboro Bay Road, and stealing some tires. He was expected to be sentenced later today on this charge.

Burglars Hit City Laundry

Burglars broke into the New Method Laundry cleaning plant, North Ward Street, overnight, but city police said today they did not know yet if anything was stolen from the premises.

A sliding door leading into the plant was forced open, police said, but a preliminary investigation did not reveal that money or goods were taken from the premises.

Company officials said so far they have not discovered if any goods are missing.

"We are still investigating," said one official.

Motorist Hurt In Early Morning Traffic Mishap

David Slader, 1714 Richmond, was treated at the Royal Jubilee Hospital early this morning for severe cuts to face and hands he received in a traffic accident at the corner of Fort and Cook Streets.

Slader was the driver of a car which came into collision with a car driven by Arthur Lloyd Newton, 669 Ralph Street, at 5:03 a.m. Both cars were badly damaged, city police reported.

Slader was released from hospital after receiving treatment.

Esquimalt Ship Off to Far East

Sioux To Sail Nov. 7

The Pacific Command destroyer HMCS Sioux will be the lone RCN unit serving with UN forces in the Far East by mid-December, naval headquarters at Ottawa announced today.

Sioux will leave Esquimalt harbor Nov. 7, and will be on station slightly over a month later.

At present, Canada has three destroyers in the east; the west coast ship HMCS Cayuga, due back here December 17 after a tour of duty lasting since October 23, 1954, and the east coast ships Huron and Iroquois.

Sioux will relieve the latter two.

This will be her third tour of duty since Canada joined UN forces in Korean waters. After commissioning in 1944, she saw 14 months action in the Second World War, including D-Day sweeps, Murmansk convoys and the hunt for the Turpitz.

RETIRED

Victoria Machinery Depot recently completed annual refit of the ship, which, in addition to routine work, included repairs to boilers and hull plating. Cost of the refit-repair was estimated at $500,000.

Reduction of Canada's naval strength by two-thirds in the Far East is in line with the army's decision to take a similar proportion of the 25th Canadian Infantry brigade out of Korea by the end of the year, a Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa reported today.

Huron and Iroquois will sail for Halifax via the Suez Canal visiting various ports en route. Huron will have the distinction of serving the shortest period of any Canadian ship in the East; she relieved another Atlantic Command ship, HMCS Haida, only last month.

Eight Canadian destroyers have served in the Korean theatre since Ahabaskan, Cayuga and Sioux (all West Coast) had two tours; Nootka, two; Haida, two; Huron and Iroquois are on their third; and Cayuga will have completed her third when she arrives here in December.

Edgelow Urges Action On Fireboat Contract

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow urged Thursday that city council delay no longer in making a contract arrangement with Harold Elworthy of Island Tug & Barge Ltd., for fireboat service.

The alderman called attention to a motion on council's minute book, showing that a minute proposal was endorsed in principle last April 8.

Ald. William Pinfold and City Manager Cecil Wyatt, who were earlier appointed a committee of two to look into the matter, were asked to renew their efforts and bring a report to council.

INEFFICIENCY CHARGE

time to consider association proposals, but the association demanded immediate answers to submissions, he said. "We asked for six months to give an answer to study the whole question of arbitration for government employees."

He said: "Now, I ask you, who was to blame for the creation of this state of impasse?"

The Civil Service Act, he said, makes adequate provision for civil servants to present grievances or views to the cabinet.

"Therefore I contend that the government employees may not have been making full use of the facilities already offered and arranged for their protection and use."

Mr. Black said "I think the rights of arbitration which you demand are already provided for and set out in this act. Before seeking further advances I suggest that you use the facilities you already have."

Government benefits to employees, he said, included the five-day week to 4,820 employees in certain categories, leaving only 3,557 not on the five-day week.

Of this latter group, many were not working a full 44 hours, in such places as mental hospitals.

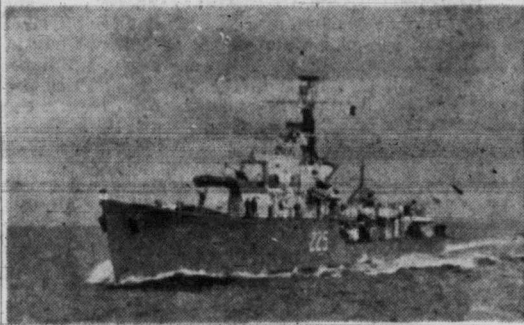

Cost of implementing the five-day week for all, he said, would be about $1,500,000 a year.

Earlier, the 10,000-member British Columbia Government Employees' Association was told that the resolution charging "willful inefficiency" by civil servants was a "mean, petty attempt" to cover the government's inaction.

R. K. Gervin, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, told the opening session of the group's annual convention that the Social Credit party had denied being an enemy of labor and that it would have to retract the resolution or stand, indicted for an anti-labor policy.

The resolution will be discussed at this afternoon's session of the convention. Delegates, angered by the charge, will likely be asked to decide whether they should take strike action to enforce demands for arbitration rights and a five-day week.

Bill Black, representing the BC hospital union, said it was a shame the word inefficiency had been "banded about" and said the main issue to be decided by the 105 delegates was the right to arbitrate. He said there would "never be the proper dignity as a collective unit until we can sit down and bargain legally" with the government.

False Pretenses Brings Two-Year Jail Sentence

City Man Goes From Police Court To County Court on Other Charge

One hour after having been sentenced to two years for false pretenses, a Victoria man faced trial today on charges arising out of attempted sale of a local U-Drive car in Juarez, Mexico.

He is Clarence L. Cummings, formerly of 844 Dunsmuir Street, who was sentenced by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court for false pretenses.

Under the name of Robert G. Kurtis, he was escorted to County Court to face charges arising out of a car theft.

Cummings admitted in police court to obtaining fraudulently $57 from post office saving accounts at Penticton by means of a worthless cheque.

ADMITTED CHARGE

He also admitted obtaining $50 from a Vancouver post office by the same method.

Other charges to which he pleaded guilty were passing worthless cheques at two local department stores.

Cummings is being tried in County Court on charges of stealing a car from the National Motors Drive Yourself and Service Station Ltd.; obtaining a car with intent to defraud, and obtaining credit by means of a worthless cheque.

TRIP TO SEATTLE

The trial is being held before Judge J. B. Clearhue. Alan Bigelow, city prosecutor, is acting for the Crown. The accused is not represented by counsel.

New 'Sweeper Enters Service Next Week

Commissioning ceremonies for HMCS Fortune, newest minesweeper to be attached to the Pacific Command, will be held at HMC Dockyard at 11 a.m. Wednesday, the navy has announced.

Fortune was built by Victoria Machinery Depot. She is one of 14 "non-magnetic" wood-enclosed hulls, and extensive use was made of aluminum in her construction.

The ship is named for Fortune Bay, Newfoundland. She will join sister ships, HMCS Comox and HMCS James Bay, in the Second Canadian Minesweeping Squadron, based at Esquimalt.

Commissioning officer of Fortune is Lieut. Cmdr. J. B. Young of Victoria and Vancouver. He entered the RCN in England as a cadet in 1941 and has served in HMS Rodney and HMS Jamaica. In 1944, on completion of courses, he served in HMCS Sioux.

His most recent appointment was officer in charge of the leadership school at HMCS Cornwallis.

Fortune is now carrying out acceptance trials, including anti-aircraft and surface firing, between Race Rocks and Discovery Island, Juan de Fuca Strait, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me if it is possible that a 'coon will attack and kill a cat?—Miss P. C.

A.—Yes, a racoon is capable of killing a house cat and there are cases in which the creatures are known to have killed hunters' dogs, being no mean battlers when cornered.

B.C. game board officials recall an incident in West Vancouver in which a valuable house cat was torn to bits by a racoon, which had been raiding a turkey farm and apparently encountered the cat.

Cats are much faster than 'coons and it is said that may be a chief reason why killings of feline pets are not more numerous though there are many wild former house cats in woods of B.C.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Christmas Fruit, Tangerines Selling Now in Victoria!

By PENNY SAVER

Tangerines have arrived in Victoria! Does that mean anything to you? To me, the arrival of tangerines means it's time to think of Christmas... it's not far off now! The oranges seem plump and bright as ones we buy in the Yuletide season, so, if you fancy a preview, buy some. The kiddies will love them in their lunches. Price per dozen is 48 cents. You can buy man-size oranges with the type of skin that usually means sweet fruit: thick, finely-grained and unblemished. Price is 25 cents for three.

Fresh papayas caught my eye this morning. It's not very often you see them on sale in Victoria stores. Why not make like Hawaiians and have some for dessert tomorrow? Or for breakfast?

They are just like the melons we're used to except that they're just a little softer. Some folks like to eat them with lemon juice. Sweet and juicy, you can buy one for 59 cents.

I bought some local McIntosh apples today, and decided that I prefer them to Okanagan Macs. They're harder, but just as sweet. Give me a hard, juicy apple, any day. Price is 29 cents for three pounds. For the benefit of those who do prefer Okanagan Macs, they are selling at the usual five for a quarter price.

Fancy Delicious apples are now 60 cents a dozen and golden Delicious are 10 cents a pound.

Sweet, nectar-filled Cox's Orange Pippins can be purchased for 25 cents for three pounds.

Sprouts tops are just half the price of the sprouts themselves, but they're just as good for you. Tops cost just 25 cents for two pounds and you pay the same price for a pound of sprouts.

Golden Queen squash is 9 cents a pound, turnips are 6 cents a pound and Danish squash is 12 cents a pound. You pay 15 cents a pound for sweet potatoes and the same price for two pounds of vegetable marrow.

Parsnips are 10 cents a pound. Little field cucumbers can be purchased locally for 10 cents each.

Couple Exchange Vows In Nanaimo Wedding

Of interest in this city is the recent wedding in Nanaimo which united in marriage Dorothy Grace Hawthornthwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hawthornthwaite of Ladysmith, B.C., with John Samuel Youlden, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. Youlden, 3367 Salsbury Way, Victoria. Archdeacon Hendy conducted the ceremony in St. Paul's Church, which was decorated for the occasion with multi-colored dahlias and fern and lighted tapers.

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung during the signing of the register, by B. Hawkes, and organist was Ray A. Hutchcroft. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

A gown of Chantilly lace and pleated nylon net was the bride's choice for her wedding. Her chapel veil was held in place by a coronet studded with rhinestones and pearls and she carried a bouquet of tallman roses centred with gardenias.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Bruneau, and bridesmaids, Miss Jeanette Apponen and Miss Dierdre De Beck, wore identical gowns of red and gold iridescent taffeta and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Miss Linda Randall was flower girl, wearing a red and gold iridescent taffeta frock, similarly styled, and carrying a basket of bronze chrysanthemums.

William Youlden, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Tom Hawthornthwaite, brother of the bride, and Tom Stevens.

Reception was held at the Malaspina Hotel, where toast to the bride was proposed by F. Highfield. A toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by W. Youlden. The three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by roses and pink tulle, was made by the bride's godmother, Mrs. E. Cairns. J. Spooner, uncle of the bride, acted as master of ceremonies.

For travelling up-Island on honeymoon, the bride donned a tailored grey suit with charcoal and smoky rose accessories and an orchid corsage.

Upon their return, the couple will live at 949 Southgate Street.

Student Nurses' Fair

An evening of fun was enjoyed last evening by those who attended the annual Jubilee Fun Fair, sponsored by the student nurses of the hospital. Proceeds will go towards buying a TV set for the nurses' home.

The girls were dressed up as witches, goblins, hillbillies and gypsies to give manicures, shoe shines and kisses, three for a dime. Guests could have their portrait sketched while they waited, have their tea and read, or take part in numerous games, including bingo, darts and drunken sailor game.

Other attractions were a fish pond, rummage sale, candy and home-cooking booths and a half-hour skit, "Life of the Student Nurse."

WHY GROW OLD?

Use a Cleansing Cream To Fight Skin Flakiness

THE FRIDAY QUESTION BOX

Q.—"What can I do to combat flakiness on the skin of my face and forehead?"

A.—Use cleansing cream rather than soap and water. Be sure to lubricate your face daily with an oily cream. If you can leave this on all night, so much the better. If not, let it soak in for several hours a day. If your figure can afford it add more fats to your diet. Sometimes vitamin deficiency causes this. Ask your doctor about taking a couple of vitamin pills (which give you all of the vitamins) daily, and try to eat a vitamin rich diet.

Q.—"Will you say in your column how many calories I should have a day in order to maintain my present weight? I have been on a diet and have lost 20 pounds. I am constantly dieting or gaining. I can't seem to stay at my ideal weight."

A.—The average woman requires from 1,800 to 2,400 calories a day. However, the daily calorie requirement is greatly influenced by weight, height, age and individual habits in work and exercise.

Since you now have your ideal weight why not keep counting calories for a while and see how you get along on 1,800? If you lose, add another 800 calories daily. If you gain, cut back.

If you are sick and tired of calorie counting, then just eat a well-balanced diet, with moderate helpings and a few luxuries only. Never allow yourself to eat enough to feel "stuffed." I think you can keep your present weight if you will just follow these suggestions. BUT watch the scales, and the day you find that you have gained three pounds, begin calorie counting. The trouble most women have is that they wait for the first 10 pounds overweight before they do anything about it. If they would lose the first three, they would have no difficulty.

Q.—"I would like to know if I am the correct weight. My husband thinks that I should gain a few pounds. I am 23 years old and weigh 120 pounds. I am 5 feet 5 inches tall."

A.—You should gain a few pounds; I would say from seven to 10.

Ganges Chapter Marks Birthday

A talk by Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, provincial president of the IOOE, highlighted the 40th anniversary luncheon of Ganges Chapter, IOOE, held at Harbor House, Wednesday. Mrs. V. C. Best, regent, introduced Mrs. Dowdall, who gave an interesting summary of the National IOOE convention and related her experiences of a civil defense course taken at Ottawa recently. She urged all members to take a part, however small, in the civil defense of Canada.

Thirty-six members of the IOOE attended the luncheon, including many former members and three charter members, Mrs. V. Case Morris, Mrs. T. F. Speed and Mrs. A. J. Smith, who each received a corsage bouquet. Mrs. Best presented a corsage to Mrs. Dowdall and received one herself from Mrs. A. M. Brown, president of the Legion Auxiliary. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Frank Scott, a past regent, who is ill.

A huge birthday cake, alight with candles, held place of honor on the table, and was cut by the three charter members. Red Virginia creeper and masses of bright autumn flowers combined with attractive place cards and red, white and blue serviettes to make the table attractive. Mrs. G. H. Holmes said grace and a vote of thanks was given Mrs. Dowdall by Mrs. G. St. Denis and Mrs. J. G. G. Bompas.

Letters of greeting to the chapter were read from officers and members of B.C. chapters sent by Mrs. A. C. Coles, from Mrs. E. Pellant, past provincial president; Mrs. C. Abbott of Victoria, honorary vice-regent, and Mrs. Frank Crofton of Victoria, first regent of the chapter.

A telegram was sent from the luncheon to Admiral Jellicoe Chapter in Vancouver, whose members were also celebrating their 40th anniversary on Wednesday. Arrangements for the luncheon were made by Mrs. W. M. Mount, Mrs. M. B. Wellwood and Miss H. Dean.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

You'll find that with clean needles, your knitting or crocheting will go much faster. Steel, plastic and bone needles can be washed in hot soapsuds often to remove fingermarks.

Wait several days before washing new linoleum. Then use a damp cloth or mop and plenty of thick soapsuds. Rinse the linoleum thoroughly and allow to dry completely.

To wear on a special trip, a bare, black top of mat jersey creates three different, pretty outfits when teamed with three skirts—a white bird's-eye pique, a red ottoman faille, a wheel of black lace.

One raw apple
One glass of buttermilk or skimmed milk before going to sleep

Canadian Cities Reproduced by English Artist for Cunard Ship

TORONTO (CP) — Denise Bates, a tall, attractive English artist, is taking a quick look around Canada on the most unusual painting assignment of her career.

The 26-year-old artist will paint 50 topographical scenes for the new Cunard line ship Ivernia, sister ship to the recently commissioned Saxonia.

The paintings will be done in pairs representing British cities and their Canadian namesakes. There will be scenes of Stratford-on-Avon and Stratford, Ont., of Halifax in Yorkshire and Halifax, N.S.

Miss Bates, in Toronto on the first leg of a whirlwind Canadian tour to "get the feel and pulse of the country," said an ambition of the future is to paint her way across the continent.

WORKING LIST

Miss Bates has a list of proposed towns from all 10 provinces to work on. She is contemplating 14 cities in Ontario, Nelson and Kimberley in British Columbia; Banff, Calgary and Edmonton in Alberta; Halifax and Yarmouth in Nova Scotia; Belfast, Prince Edward Island and St. Albans, Newfoundland.

Miss Bates, who left art school only a year ago has achieved success in record time. Her main passion she said is mural painting and she had to interrupt a mural for a girls' school in Shropshire to do the Cunard series.

In her first year of painting professionally she has had pictures in two exhibitions, at the Royal Academy and the Welsh Academy. She also has just completed a decorative map of the Queen's world tour for the Imperial Institute Museum.

Don't throw out that old piano stool. It can be used for greater efficiency in the kitchen. Simply raise or lower it to the correct height for your sitdown chores. And if you paint the stool with washable enamel, it can be sused and kept as clean as all your other kitchen equipment.

Lonely Widow Needs A Change of Scenery

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When one's residence or work are not to one's liking or do not offer what one wants in life, the solution to the problem is a change of scenery. A woman writes:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I am 41 years old, a widow, and childless. Could you suggest ways of meeting available males? I have not been able to meet any through my church and friends. I am a prison matron. My work is very depressing and certainly affords no means of meeting anyone worthwhile. The field of eligible men seems very small and since I was happily married, I'm suffering from the worst kind of loneliness."

(A)—If you are to get a better perspective on life and be reasonably happy you must get out of the work you are doing and go to a place where life is more cheerful. I am sure you can get work in a more congenial atmosphere.

Then, if the community in which you live is too small to offer you any opportunities of meeting available men of suitable age, go elsewhere. As you are alone in the world, you can go where you wish and not feel that you are being unfair to anyone.

Furthermore, it would be a good morale builder for you to get a complete change of scenery. There are too many memories of your happy married life where you are living. That, combined with the type of work you are doing, makes life seem even duller and drabber than it otherwise would be in your present state of loneliness.

Why not talk to the person under whom you work and ask if some arrangements cannot be made for you to transfer to a different type of work in another community? There you could join community organizations and meet people. A larger community offers greater possibilities along these lines than does a small community. Furthermore, a newcomer in a community often has a better chance to attract available men than have those who have always lived there.

Dr. Hurlock is the author of a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy, send 15 cents in coin with a stamped self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Victoria Scholarship Winners Draw Praise

Education Minister Lauds Greater Victoria Schools System at Oak Bay Presentation

Records of pupils in Greater Victoria are "a censure on glib-tongued people who say that schools are dedicated to mediocrity, that we are producing people no better than morons," Education Minister Ray Williston said Thursday when he presented scholarship to B.C.'s four top ranking matriculation students at Oak Bay Junior High.

"The whole Victoria school system can take a bow on a night like this," he said. For the last six years the Governor-General's Medal for the highest ranking student in B.C. has been won in Greater Victoria.

"The record here fulfills my faith in young people. They will outperform any other generation if given the leadership."

Oak Bay High had created an environment for learning, emphasizing effort by the individual, which was the basis of character building, the minister said.

He extended congratulations to Governor-General's Silver Medal winner Timothy A. Williams, who obtained highest provincial marks in university entrance examinations and won the Chris Spencer Foundation scholarship of $225 and a general proficiency scholarship of $175.

OTHER AWARDS

Jeremy S. Winter, second highest in the province in June exams, also received a Chris Spencer Foundation award and a general proficiency scholarship, as well as winning the Governor-General's Bronze Medal.

Largest individual scholarship went to Gael H. Stott, who came third in provincial standings. Miss Stott won a special Chris Spencer Foundation scholarship which will pay her $400 per year for five years.

A $225 Chris Spencer Foundation Scholarship and a $175 general proficiency award, originally won by Miss Stott, went by reversion to Marjorie A. Gilbert, fourth in the B.C. standings.

Scholarships were also presented to: J. David Edgar, $50;

David E. Taylor, $150, and Brian D. Perry-Whittington, $200. Robert A. Food and Janice C. Brinkworth, who had earlier received Kiwanis and Oak Bay High School Parent-Teacher scholarships, respectively, were also present at the ceremony.

HIGHER EDUCATION

HARTFORD, Mich. (UP)—Jon Friday earned money this summer for his education at Michigan State College by performing as a trapeze artist with a circus.

SNUFFED OUT

Rigid Pay Rulings For Armed Militia

By ROY THORSEN

The Canadian army has laid down a set of rigid rules for the militia soldiers under which they will get no pay unless they complete a minimum of 15 days' attendance a year at local training.

The new pay schedule comes into effect January 1 next year. Pay is earned at the rate of half a day for each evening parade, or one day for each daytime parade of over six hours' duration.

Local militia unit commanders have been informed that if a man's pay service terminates during the calendar year, the pay schedule will also apply provided his termination of service was caused by death, for medical reasons or by enlistment in Regular forces.

EXEMPTIONS

The minimum attendance requirement shall not apply if during the calendar year an officer or man attended an authorized course at a Regular unit or school.

Commanding officers of all local units have been asked to point out that the advance pay usually given in June and December each year, will not be given to any individual unless he had completed attendance requirements. The attendance schedule also requires a minimum attendance for officers and men who enlist during a calendar year.

CAMP BONUS

The new regulations authorize entitlement of a camp training bonus to all personnel who attend summer camp or equivalent during 1954, as well as in future years.

There is a $25 bonus for single men who apply, or married men who apply and do not wish the bonus assigned to their wives. Married men cannot change their decision once it is made.

For the married men who apply and sign it over to their wives the bonus is $40. A single man, upon marrying, may amend his application if he wishes.

The bonus is only paid to those who attend at least 12 days at local training during the previous six months. Those who join in the six months prior to camp, must be credited with two days' attendance for each month they have served to qualify for the bonus.

By the way, a little sour note: The bonus is taxable under income tax regulations, as is other militia pay they receive.

FREE MOVIE SHOW REWARD FOR HALLOWEEN GOODNESS

POWELL RIVER (CP)—Students signing pledge cards promising good behavior here Halloween Night will be treated to free movies by the Moose Lodge under a continent-wide honor program.

School children in Grades I to VIII will promise to do no damage during the evening and will be off the streets by 10.30 p.m.

RCMP will judge whether the young fry have kept their pledge.

SHORT MARRIAGE: At Montgomery, Ala., circuit judge Eugene Carter granted a divorce Wednesday to a disappointed wife who charged her bridegroom with adultery the night they were married. Their names were withheld.

SECRET WEAPON — The Grand Junction, Colo., operations office of the Atomic Energy Commission announced with a straight face Thursday receipt of the following letter from a Hollywood man obviously interested in uranium prospecting:

"Gentlemen: "I have just purchased a jeep, greiger counter and pith helmet. Now all that I need is the literature on uranium prospecting. Please send me all the literature that you have available. If there is a charge—advise me. "Sincerely, (Signature deleted)"

The letter contained this postscript: My mother-in-law recently was subjected to intensive radiation treatments. She's cured now—but—she gets a definite 'ping' from my counter. Now

Good Herring Run Reported Off Island

VANCOUVER (CP)—Large herring catches are being netted by seiners fishing off the east coast of Vancouver Island, Department of Fisheries reported Thursday.

More than 7,510 tons of herring were caught during the week end in Swanson Channel and 3,124 tons caught in Nanos Bay, near Nanaimo.

The total catch of 22,913 tons by the 47 seiners in the area has boosted the haul past the mid-way mark of their 40,000-ton quota for this year.

Rotarians Get Vicarious Journey to South America

Members of the Victoria Rotary Club went on a guided tour of South America Thursday without even leaving the Empress Hotel ballroom.

Reason for the easy trip was a visit to the club from Seattle Rotarian Ralph Johanson, district sales manager for Pan-American World Airways, recently returned from a 20,000-mile journey through South American countries.

Mr. Johanson brought along a color film to illustrate his talk. He had high words of praise for Sao Paulo, "one of the most rapidly expanding business centres in the world."

"Looking from my hotel window there, I counted no less than 60 new buildings, factories, apartments, business blocks, under construction," he said.

"Montivideo is the real tourist town. Three hundred miles of beaches and a balmy climate make it a perfect place for a holiday."

Buenos Aires, however, is by far the most fabulous city in the world, except maybe for Paris or Victoria," he said.

Try to 'Borrow' Car Costs $50

Bennett Sam, 9 Cooper Road, was fined $50 or 15 days when convicted in Saanich court Tuesday at 8.45 p.m. Police took him into custody after a search of the Gorge Park area.

Police said the accused tried to start a car parked outside the Gorgegrove grocery while its owner, Jerry Sobolewski, was buying a package of cigarettes. Accused admitted he had been drinking heavily during the afternoon and evening. His counsel told the court he had never been in any trouble before.

Sales Tax Revenue, Liquor Sales Run Behind Says Laing

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal leader Arthur Laing says the Social Credit government "has reached the point of diminishing returns" in its attempt to get more tax money.

He told the West Point Grey Liberal Association here Wednesday night:

"The expected $58,000,000 in sales tax revenue is running 18 per cent behind this year and bulk liquor sales are down 30 per cent."

He said British Columbians should know the facts of the government financial picture.

"It's going to come out eventually anyway, and the people of B.C. can stand the shock."

Lanza Makes Second Video Debut By Proving His Voice Recovered

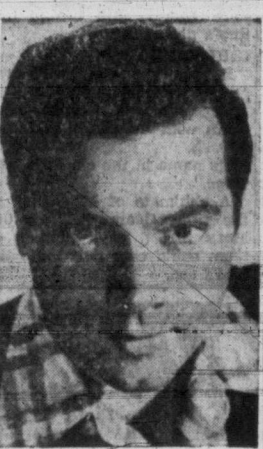

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mario Lanza sang with his own vocal pipes Thursday night and vindicated himself in the eyes of the press and public.

Last month Mario's widely heralded television debut was accomplished by the use of two-year-old records on CBS-TV's "Shower of Stars."

The substitution stirred up a controversy in the television industry which was not dispelled until Lanza invited the press to a private concert in his home a few days later to prove that he really could sing.

Thursday night's show was preceded by a talk by Harry Ackerman, vice-president of CBS, who explained the need for pre-recording of certain song numbers.

"In order to keep up the tempo of a musical show," Ackerman said, "it is necessary to pre-record song numbers that follow strenuous dance routines. Else the singers would be so out of wind they could not sing properly."

THAT'S WHAT THE MAN SAYS

Macaw, Siwash-Speaking Naval Veteran

By TONY DICKASON

The bemused history of Beacon Hill Park's mateless macaw, long a subject of speculation among bird brains, has been clarified.

The gorgeously attired semi-parrot is a veteran of the Imperial Navy.

Back in 1908 the bird was a frequent visitor to Esquimalt as the puzzled property of Robert Ryley, 482 Lampson Street, who served aboard the naval sailing vessel Shearwater.

He got the bird in Acapulco, Mexico. Aboard ship a wing was kept clipped so it wouldn't fly off to sea and drown, but near port feathers were let grow so the bird could take solo trips around trees bordering the port.

On one such trip it disappeared, to be found later with an Indian family. Children in the family were so upset at the thought of parting from the pretty bird Mr. Ryley let them keep it.

What happened between that time and when it was found in the mid-30s in a Beacon Hill Park tree is still behind history's dark curtain.

GIRL OR BOY?

Reason why the bird's language was originally hard to understand was because, after years with Indians, it jabbered Siwash.

Its name in the old days was "Mac."

A shipmate of Mr. Ryley at the time, George Gilbert, 647 Moss Street, says neither of them could ever determine the bird's sex.

Among the men the bird was popular, but not with the officers. It hated officers. One uncut trick Mac performed with alarming regularity was to waddle over to where officers' coats were hanging, climb up the coat, and with great deliberation and precision snip off each brass button.

Wrathful officers had Mr. Ryley sew them back on.

But there must have been a spot of kindness in the command's heart for Mac. Once the macaw sheered off the yardarm for the open sea, but with a clipped wing fell lower and lower. The captain ordered the Shearwater stopped, a skiff was lowered and the Mac rescued from a watery demise.

The bird was evaporated and thawed out in the galley where pots and pans hung.

Mac today must be an ancient old boy, or crone, depending on his or her sex, as the foregoing took place 46 years ago.

Macaws live to be around 100 years of age.

Marilyn's coach, Guy Ryder, said her sore arm was probably the result of a heavy workout at his Lakeshore Swimming Club Monday night, her first real test since her cross-the-lake swim.

HOSPITAL MIXES BABIES —MOTHERS WON'T TRADE

LONDON (UP)—A hospital revealed here today that it "unfortunately" had given two babies to the wrong mothers.

It said the mothers have refused to trade them back again.

The management of Forest Gate Hospital, in the industrial suburb of West Ham, confirmed that "beyond a doubt" through a mix-up in wrist and crib tags, Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, and Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, have been nursing each other's dark-haired, blue-eyed boys since the infants were born five weeks ago.

But the two mothers, despite "conclusive" blood tests and the pleading of their husbands, have refused to switch the babies.

Canadian Ships Haul Cargo Back From Britain

Freight Remains in Holds as a Result Of U.K. Dock Strike; Settlement Seen

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland is scheduled to arrive here tonight carrying the same cargo she had when she left Montreal Oct. 12.

The cargo, 3,450 tons of grain and miscellaneous freight, could not be landed in Liverpool because of the dock workers' strike.

The Canadian Pacific freighter Mapledell arrived here earlier this week with 2,800 tons of undischarged cargo. The Saxonia, a new Cunard liner, is scheduled to dock here next week with some 3,000 tons of undischarged cargo.

LONDON (UP)—Leaders of Britain's four-week-old crippling dock strike agreed today to recommend that the strikers go back to work, sources close to the unions reported.

The strike leaders reached their agreement at a six-hour meeting but refused to divulge the recommendations they will make to the 43,000 strikers Saturday.

Officials of the striking unions went into their session after an emergency meeting of the cabinet was called by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

At the time a compromise formula worked out with employers on the compulsory overtime dispute appeared on the verge of collapse over union demands for extending the agreement to all eight strikebound ports. The employers insisted that it apply only to London.

The strike leaders will make their recommendations at a series of mass meetings Saturday, but they would give no hint of their decision.

Jobs Without War Pledged by Ike

President's Aerial Vote-Getting Tour Turns 'War Prosperity' Fire on Democrats

CLEVELAND (AP)—President Eisenhower, opening an 11th-hour aerial campaign on behalf of Republican candidates, pledged today that the United States never will go to war to solve the unemployment problem.

Addressing a crowd of 2,500 persons at Cleveland Hopkins Municipal Airport, the president said prosperity under the Democrats was based on war. He promised his administration will do everything possible to find jobs for those out of work.

The president flew to Cleveland from Washington on the first leg of a four-state tour to get out the vote for next Tuesday's election.

The second stop on Eisenhower's flying trip was Detroit where he said his administration is solving the unemployment problem without war because "we have a government with a heart."

Police estimated a crowd of 50,000 jammed Cadillac Square in front of the city hall to hear Eisenhower.

Compton Hits Up 113

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—Denis Compton stole the honors with a 113-run century today as the touring Marylebone Cricket Club ran up a score of 246 in the opening of a four-day match against South Australia.

Canad Pacific Airlines flights were also delayed and three United Air Lines flights were wiped out.

Thursday night, about 10 aircraft circled International Airport awaiting landing instructions. Of these, two TCA eastern flights were turned back to Calgary and Edmonton; two CPA planes from Prince Rupert landed at Abbotsford, B.C., east of here.

SNOBS, TOADIES?

'Queen Mum Strictly Okay, But . . .

NEW YORK (CP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth today canceled a visit to the Cloisters—a museum built in the style of a monastery in upper Manhattan—because of pouring rain.

Everyone seems happy with the Queen Mother's tour so far with the exception of Brooklyn and the New York Daily News.

The Daily News, biggest-circulation newspaper in North America, has taken a dim view of most of the tour arrangements.

Thursday's edition slammed at the press arrangements for the Canadian Club luncheon for the Queen, and today The News carries an editorial headed "Queen Mum is okay, but . . ."

The editorial contains the following sentence:

"Queen Mum" as a lot of Britain-lovers around town are calling her as millions retch, was isolated by toadies and snobs who kept the common herd at a respectful distance.

"We'd say," the editorial goes on, "that Queen Mum is strictly okay, but that she has been trapped by a bunch of stuffed shirts who don't know the first thing about good public relations for royalty on a good-will tour of a republic."

Vancouver Air Travel Wiped Out By Fog; Shrouded Thugs Active

VANCOUVER (CP)—A heavy, wet fog masked Canada's southern Pacific Coast overnight and still lay in a grey shroud today, halting air and sea traffic and cutting motoring to a minimum.

Gunmen held up two downtown Vancouver companies, escaping with about $500.

Police reported few accidents as most drivers took the bus.

The forecast was for the fog to clear later in the day, resuming again tonight.

Trans-Canada Air Lines held all operations until 11 a.m., cancelling the first flight to eastern Canada which was rescheduled out of Calgary.

The first three Vancouver-Victoria flights were also cancelled.

Canadian Pacific Airlines flights were also delayed and three United Air Lines flights were wiped out.

Thursday night, about 10 aircraft circled International Airport awaiting landing instructions. Of these, two TCA eastern flights were turned back to Calgary and Edmonton; two CPA planes from Prince Rupert landed at Abbotsford, B.C., east of here.

Cabinet Unaware Of Resolution Basis

By Staff Reporter

NANAIMO—The Vancouver Social Credit convention resolution tabling government employees as "wilfully inefficient" came as a complete surprise to the government, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black said here today.

Of the resolution, which set off a province-wide clamour for investigation, Mr. Black told the annual convention of the Provincial Government Employees' Association "frankly, this resolution came as a complete surprise to your government, which is not presently aware of the basis for such an observation."

He said the government would ask to be informed of the basis for the resolution, adding that "wilful inefficiency, if it does exist, has no place in government service."

He called such criticism "shocking," but did not elaborate further on the point.

ARBITRATION QUESTION

On civil service arbitration, Mr. Black said it "can never be made applicable to government employees since this makes the legislature, which is the supreme legal entity in the province, bound by decisions . . . by an independent agency not responsible to it."

He said compulsory arbitration negates principles of responsible government and would be "a direct violation of our oaths of office to agree to such a proposal."

A real difference between bargaining with private enterprise and with the government is that the legislature can legally change at any time basis of an agreement which a government has signed with a union.

'CERTAIN PROBLEMS'

The minister said, however, that "differences between status of the government as an employer and private industry presented 'certain problems to which we have not as yet an answer.'"

Mr. Black scathed statements made by association secretary E. P. O'Connor, Vancouver, quoting him as saying "The Social Credit government's refusal to bargain with us has all the earmarks of fascism, nazism and communism."

Remarks of this kind did little to create the atmosphere necessary for proper discharge of government duties, either by the government itself or employees, he said.

MISCONCEPTION

"We not only want your confidence, we want your loyalty," he said the Socials, during term of office, "has done more for the betterment of conditions of employment of the civil servant than any previous government."

Mr. Black said he would like to clear up "a few misconceptions and misrepresentations that have been given wide coverage in the press."

The government never has and never will, he said, refuse to meet with government employees or their representatives to discuss grievance or problems.

MOSLEM LEAGUE DISSOLVED

DEPUTY DIES

Adenauer Rushes Back To Germany

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will cut short his visit to the United States and fly back to Germany Monday for the funeral of Hermann Ehlers, speaker of the lower house of parliament, it was announced officially today.

Ehlers, Adenauer's right-hand man and once considered his likely successor, died shortly after midnight of a heart attack at Oldenberg. He was 50.

The announcement said Adenauer will leave New York Monday.

Ehlers died in the midst of a boiling political controversy in West Germany over concessions made by Adenauer to France on the industrially-rich Saar territory in order to win German rearmament.

His death-put the Socialist Party temporarily in charge of the Bundestag just as the opponents of NATO membership for Germany were marshalling their strength against Adenauer in the forthcoming debate on ratification of agreements made by the chancellor at Paris.

As speaker of the Bundestag, Ehlers would have played only a little part in the rearmament debate, but he was a close associate of the 78-year-old Adenauer and a powerful spokesman for Germany's Protestants.

Because of his strong church ties and closeness to Adenauer, Ehlers had been considered the likely successor to the aging chancellor.

Carlo Schmid, a high-ranking Socialist, automatically replaced Ehlers as temporary speaker until a new head of the Bundestag is elected.

Teachers Hostile on Wage Statement

VANCOUVER (CP)—A "hold-the-line-on-wages" policy statement from the B.C. School Trustees' Association today drew condemnation from the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

The federation accused the trustees' association of trying to "drive a rift" between local school boards and the teachers they employ.

Salaries are high enough and the cost of living does not warrant an increase, the trustees said in their statement.

Abandon Search for B.C. Youth

ALERT BAY (CP)—RCMP and RCN frogmen have abandoned the search for Robert Kobi, 15, missing since Oct. 16. He was last seen fishing near the edge of Nimpkish Lake.

B.C. Chamber Elects Victorians

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Chamber of Commerce today elected seven business leaders to represent Vancouver Island on its directorate. Chosen were J. Stuart Keate, G. F. Dunn and E. W. Arnott, all of Victoria; Norman Schroeder, Port Alberni; H. C. Stone, Duncan; Robert Mawhinney, Nanaimo, and J. N. Olson, Courtenay. Earlier President Arnott told the chamber's third annual meeting that other Canadian provinces are "catching up with B.C.'s high wage rate—and a good thing, too."

'Distinctly Anti-Catholic'—Duke

VANCOUVER (CP)—Archbishop W. M. Duke, head of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Vancouver, today termed "distinctly anti-Catholic" a Protestant League of Canada brief to the provincial government against financial support for Catholic schools. The archbishop said the league was a small group which does not represent British Columbia Protestants.

Times Crossword
Hits Record $400

With the right combination of answers still proving elusive, The Times Crossword Puzzle contest this week offers a total prize of $400, highest figure it has ever reached.

Last week's puzzle, answer to which appears on Page 28 of today's Times, tripped most entrants on the clue: "An Ancient Egyptian... may deeply interest the archaeologist." Common answers were "king" and "wing," but "ring" was correct. A king, as such, would have ceased to exist and hold no interest but his remaining relics, such as a ring, would certainly intrigue an archaeologist.

Another stumbling block was the word "nap," the clue being "On a long journey it's a good idea take one."

Thousands of puzzlers gave the answer as "nap" but the key in the clue was "a long journey" on which a nap would definitely be desirable but a map might be going by train, for example.

With prize money soaring and the law of averages at work it appears that a correct solution to the tantalizing crossword will be not long in coming. Puzzle No. 84, which appears today, Saturday and Monday, is the 13th straight contest since a winner was proclaimed.

Deadline for answers is noon, Wednesday.

DEPUTY DIES

Adenauer
Rushes Back
To Germany

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will cut short his visit to the United States and fly back to Germany Monday for the funeral of Hermann Ehlers, speaker of the lower house of parliament, it was announced officially today.

Ehlers, Adenauer's right-hand man and once considered his likely successor, died shortly after midnight of a heart attack at Oldenberg. He was 50.

The announcement said Adenauer will leave New York Monday.

Ehlers died in the midst of a boiling political controversy in West Germany over concessions made by Adenauer to France on the industrially-rich Saar territory in order to win German rearmament.

His death put the Socialist Party temporarily in charge of the Bundestag just as the opponents of NATO membership for Germany were marshalling their strength against Adenauer in the forthcoming debate on ratification of agreements made by the chancellor at Paris.

Carlo Schmid, a high-ranking Socialist, automatically replaced Ehlers as temporary speaker until a new head of the Bundestag is elected.

SUFFERING FROM SWIM?

Marilyn Falls Asleep in School;
Doctor Orders Rest, Vitamin Pills

TORONTO (UP)—A doctor ordered a complete rest and a dose of vitamin pills today for Marilyn Bell, the teenage conqueror of Lake Ontario.

Dr. Bernard Willensky, who has examined Marilyn twice this week, said she was so tired she had been yawning continuously and falling asleep in school. Otherwise, he said, she was in good condition.

"I told her to take a holiday from all this excitement," he said.

Sports columnist Andy O'Brien wrote in the Montreal Star today that Miss Bell was suffering some ill effects from her 32-mile swim, including a "dead sensation" in her left arm and leg and two fingers of one hand.

Marilyn's father said, however, there was "nothing wrong" with her and he knew nothing about her having a sore side. He said she was attending school today and admitted she may have "done some yawning in classes."

Mrs. Bell said Marilyn's only medicine was vitamin pills.

"They won't do her any harm either after all her loss of sleep and excitement."

Marilyn's coach, Guy Ryder, said her sore arm was probably the result of a heavy workout at his Lakeshore Swimming Club Monday night, her first real test since her cross-lake swim.

"It's like a pitcher's sore arm, caused by insufficient warming up," he said. "It's nothing serious."

B.C. Workers 'Confused'
By Cabinet Policies

By TOM GOULD—Times Staff Reporter
NANAIMO—Carl Hauck, president, BC Government Employees' Association today denied "wilful inefficiency" in the civil service saying, "but so many of us are so damned confused we don't know what the government wants us to do."

Speaking immediately after Provincial Secretary Wesley Black to the BCGEA convention here, Mr. Hauck said:

"Take this mess at BISCO. No one can tell me it is the fault of four or five guys who have spent their lives trying to do a job."

Loud applause greeted this remark.

Mr. Hauck appealed to the government to resume a cabinet-association committee disbanded 18 months ago by Premier W. A. C. Bennett because "certain people were playing politics."

"We don't give a damn about politics," declared Mr. Hauck. "It took us 15 months to get a meeting with the cabinet, and only 18 minutes to get an answer to our request."

"It looks like we're going to have to test our economic strength to get bargaining rights through arbitration," Mr. Hauck said.

Earlier Mr. Black had told the convention the so-called "wilful inefficiency" resolution "came as a complete surprise to your government."

He said the government would ask to be informed of the basis for the resolution, adding that "wilful inefficiency, if it does exist, has no place in government service."

ARBITRATION QUESTION

On civil service arbitration, Mr. Black said it "can never be made applicable to government employees since this makes the legislature, which is the supreme legal entity in the province, bound by decisions by an independent agency not responsible to it."

Mr. Black scathed statements made by association secretary E. P. O'Connor, Vancouver, quoting him as saying "The Social Credit government's refusal to bargain with us has all the earmarks of fascism, nazism and communism."

He said the SoCreds, during term of office, "has done more for the betterment of conditions of employment of the civil servant than any previous government."

Mr. Black said he would like to clear up "a few misconceptions and misrepresentations that have been given wide coverage in the press."

The government never has and never will, he said, refuse to meet with government employees or their representatives to discuss grievance or problems.

Compton Hits Up 113

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—Denis Compton stole the honors with a 113-run century today as the touring Marylebone Cricket Club ran up a score of 246 in the opening of a four-day match against South Australia.

The forecast was for the fog to clear later in the day, resuming again tonight.

Trans-Canada Air Lines held all operations until 11 a.m., cancelling the first flight to eastern Canada which was rescheduled out of Calgary.

The first three Vancouver-Victoria flights were also cancelled.

Canadian Pacific Airlines

flights were also delayed and three United Air Lines flights were wiped out.

Thursday night, about 10 aircraft circled International Airport awaiting landing instructions. Of these, two TCA eastern flights were turned back to Calgary and Edmonton; two CPA planes from Prince Rupert landed at Abbotsford, B.C., east of here.
